FORMER DETECTIVE HELD ON CHARGES OF SAFE-CRACKING

R. W. Miller and T. W. Reeves, Former Railroad Sleuth, Captured in R. A. Gober's Store.

NIGHT WATCHMAN BOUND AND PUT IN AN ICE BOX

Long List of Burglaries in Atlanta Laid at the Doors of Two Prisioners by Chief of Detectives Lanford.

A night's vigil by five detectives last night culminated in the capture of two safe-crackers in the act of rifling the vault of R. A. Gober's store at 30 Carroll street, and the rescue of the night watchman, a youth of 16, who had almost frozen in the ice box in which the robbers had bound and locked him.

One cracksman escaped. The two prisoners were brought to police headquarters and locked up under charges of burglary. They gave the names of R. W. Miller and T. W. Reeves, both of 13 Stonewall street. Reeves is an ex-railroad detective, and formerly was marshal of East Point. Miller gave no occupation.

Long List of Burglaries.

Chief Lanford, who was called from his home upon word of the arrests reaching headquarters, stated that a long list of burglaries will be laid at the door of both men, and that the police are aware of the identity of the man who escaped. Miller and Reeves were immediately placed under a third degree, which was in progress at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

Detectives have been shadowing Miller and Reeves for several weeks. They were suspected of having committed a number of daring burglaries in all parts of the city. Early last night word reached the detective bureau that the two suspects were planning to rob the Gober safe.

Detectives Harper, Davis, Sturdivant, Garner and Chewning were detailed to the case. The Gober store is at No. 30 Carroll, and is situated in a dark section of the street, which runs from Powell street within a few feet of the Decatur street underpass.

The headquarters men stationed themselves around the Gober home at 8:30 o'clock. Shortly before 11 three men appeared and called for the owner of the store. Edward M. Davis, night watchman and assistant manager, who lives with Mr. Gober, answered the summons Miller, who is 34 years old and the oldest of the trio, asked to be sold a soft drink and some smoking tobacco.

Locked in Refrigerator.

Aware that detectives were near, the youth got his keys and accompanied the trio to the store. As he turned on the electric globe just above the cash register something struck him near the temple. He was too dazed to act, and before a scream could reach his lips a hand was over his mouth and he was bundled into the refrigerator.

The detectives, noting the suddenness with which the lights were turned on and out, slipped from their hiding places towards the store. Harper and Garner stole behind Miller, who stood on the sidewalk at the entrance, holding a wooden club in his hand, and caught hold of his throat.

Before he could utter a cry of warning, Harper's hand was over his lips and Garner was manacling his wrist. Sturdivant, Chewning and Davis jumped into the building. They found Reeves and the cracksman who escaped tinkering with the money drawer of the safe, which had been unlocked, and the door of which was swinging open.

Davis poked his pistol into Reeves' belt before the robber could move. As Sturdivant and Chewning moved to catch the second man, he dived through a window, carrying glass and woodwork in his wake. He disappeared in the darkness and could not be located.

While the detectives were searching the building for further evidence

$500,000 OIL CASH CAPTURED BY TEXAS

Rockefeller Trust Practically Pleads Guilty and Pays a Half Million to Stop the Suit.

Greenville, Texas, July 21.—Half a million dollars as a penalty and the transfer of 21,596 of the 24,500 shares of stock in the Magnolia Petroleum company of this state from the individual control of H. C. Folger, Jr., and John D. Archbold to a trustee mutually agreed upon was accepted by the state of Texas today in settlement of the $102,000,000 penalty and ouster suit instituted here recently by the state attorney general against the Magnolia and Corsicana Petroleum companies of Texas, the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey and New York and 28 individuals. Judge F. A. Williams, of Austin, was named as trustee for the stock in question.

The penalty was paid under telegraphic instructions from the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. The agreed verdict holds the Magnolia company, the chief Texas interest in the suit, not guilty of anti-trust law violations and it is privileged to do business with the proviso that the stock owned by Messrs. Folger and Archbold shall be administered by the trustee under guarantee by the trusteeship of complete and independent operation of the company. The Corsicana company is also given the right to continue operation. The penalty assessed is based on alleged violations of the anti-trust laws prior to 1909.

Today's action is the fourth time in six years that oil companies have been penalized in this state, but the first instance in which any of the companies sued have been permitted to continue in operation.

Attorney General B. F. Looney, of Texas, commenting on the compromise today said:

"The penalty for $500,000 together with safeguards placed about operation of Magnolia and Corsicana Petroleum companies satisfies substantially the demands of the state. It seems to me that prevention of combination in any lines of industry is of greater benefit to the state than could possibly be the assessment of large penalties after the violations of law had taken place. It is better for the state in the long run to prevent crime than to punish crime."

Attorneys' fees allowed today were $13,500, divided between Richard G. Maury, of Houston, special prosecutor for the state, and officials of this (Hunt) county who assisted in the receivership into which the state threw the Magnolia March 6, the day after the suit was filed here, and which the compromise automatically ends.

WOMEN LAWYERS' BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED

The prospects for the admission of women to the bar of Georgia were considerably brightened Monday afternoon when the general judiciary committee No. 1, of the house, recommended for passage the bill of Representative L. J. Cooper, of Ware, to allow women making the necessary qualifications to practice law in this state.

There was some little discussion in the committee, which is composed of lawyers, but the barristers finally took the chance of the competition of the fair sex.

Cardenio F. King Dies Convict At Very Hour Faithful Friends Had Secured Pardon for Him

King Well Known in Atlanta, Where He Began Career. Convicted in Boston for Financial Fraud.

Bridgewater, Mass., July 21.—A spectacular career was ended under pathetic circumstances when Cardenio F. King, once widely known as a financier and newspaper publisher of Boston, died a convict at the state farm here in the very hour that friends, aware of the approach of death, were making desperate efforts to obtain his pardon.

Only a legal technicality prevented his last hours being those of a free man. Word that his condition was hopeless was sent to Governor Foss at Boston this morning and soon afterwards Mrs. King and their four sons, who were at the bedside, received the welcome message that the governor had canvassed the members of his council and that a majority had consented to immediate clemency.

King brightened perceptibly at the news. He was not told of the word received shortly after that Attorney General Swift had rendered an opinion that a pardon could not be granted by telephone. Later, however, a telegram brought assurance that a pardon would be granted tomorrow, when the council had been ordered to convene. Dr. Emerson, medical head of the state farm, hurried with the news to the hospital, but returned to announce that King was dead.

Convicted of Taking $22,000.

King was convicted of obtaining $22,000 under false pretenses from persons who had intrusted him with funds for investment, and was sentenced to ten to fourteen years. In January, 1909, he began his term at Charlestown, but became seriously ill and was removed here. A chronic intestinal trouble still pursued him, and last night his condition suddenly became critical.

A native of North Carolina, King began his financial operations in Boston in 1904. In 1907 he began publication of the Boston Daily Tribune, but it was discontinued after several months.

In 1908 King's customers began to complain that stocks for which they had sent him money had not been delivered. Bankruptcy followed. His liabilities were nearly $300,000 and assets less than $14,000.

A warrant for King's arrest was issued, but he disappeared. He was traced finally to Columbia, Ceylon, returned to Boston and surrendered in June, 1908.

Sentence was pronounced upon him following a dramatic recital in which King declared he was innocent of any wrong intention. He closed by accusing Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston financier, of bringing him to financial ruin.

King Well Known in Atlanta.

Cardenio F. King was well known in Atlanta, where he operated a number of years ago. King came here from North Carolina and engaged in newspaper work. He soon forsook the newspaper business to push promotion schemes. After a few years in Atlanta he returned to North Carolina and went from there to Boston, where he became involved in the trouble that resulted in his conviction.

DATE OF FRANK TRIAL DEPENDS ON WEATHER

Will Be Called Monday, But May Be Postponed if as Hot as Last Saturday.

That the trial of Leo M. Frank depends to a great extent upon the weather was the indication given last night by Judge L. S. Roan, who will preside when the case is called next Monday. When the temperature went over 99 degrees last Saturday Judge Roan stated that he would not like to hold court in such weather and should it prove that hot next Monday he would be willing to a postponement of the Frank case.

Judge Roan stated last night that he would call the case on Monday and that no efforts had as yet been made to postpone it. He also stated that shoud it prove as warm then as on last Saturday, he would be willing to a postponement.

Hates Long Trial in August.

Attorney Reuben Arnold declared that he had yet nothing to say on the matter except that he hated to think of a long trial in August. He declined to say whether or not the defense would ask for another date of trial. Solicitor Hugh Dorsey has all along expressed himself as anxious to get to the trial.

"The indictment of Conley is a matter of indifference to us," stated Mr Arnold, when asked about the action of the grand jury in deciding to take no action in the matter at present.

The decision announced by the grand jury Monday after a session lasting over an hour, that it would not act on the James Conley matter at present, is looked upon as a decided victory for Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey, who, on Friday, refused to accede to the request of the foreman and call a meeting for taking up the investigation of Conley's connection with the murder of little Mary Phagan.

Victory for Dorsey.

While the members of the grand jury made it plain that they cared to make no other announcement than the simple one that at present they would not take up Conley's case, it is generally believed that they decided not to touch the matter until after the trial of Leo M. Frank.

Another matter that will come up on Thursday is the question of selecting the jurors, as, according to Solicitor Dorsey, he is preparing to fight to the last plea of the defense that the jurors for the Frank trial be drawn from the grand jury and not the petit jury box.

The grand jury in the statement which they asked the solicitor to make for them also declared that they would pay no attention to anonymous communications.

Had a Difficult Fight.

While the solicitor and the members of the grand jury keep silent as regards what happened in the grand jury room during the consideration of the matter it is known that the solicitor did not win his point without a difficult fight. He went in with a mass of evidence showing why the indictment of the negro would injure the state's case against Frank and stayed with the grand jurors for nearly an hour and a half.

EARLY DOWNFALL OF HUERTA REGIME FREELY PREDICTED

Advices Received in Washington Indicate a Definite Conclusion Will Soon Be in Mexico.

KEEN APPREHENSION FELT AT WASHINGTON

Conflict Between Huerta and Opponents Has Reached a Point Where an Early Explosion Cannot Be Avoided.

Washington, July 21.—Reports of conditions surrounding the Huerta government in Mexico have put administration officials in an attitude of keen apprehension toward the situation there.

Advices which officials believe to be perfectly trustworthy seem to indicate that the strife between the Huerta regime and the revolutionary elements is nearing a point where some definite conclusion is to be reached.

Information of this situation which was permitted to become known was coupled with the authoritative statement that the United States was making no additional naval or military preparations.

Reports of impending collapse of the Huerta regime are being talked over freely in official circles, though no official of the administration will permit his name to be coupled with them. All information made public was with the stipulation that it should not be represented as reflecting the views of the administration.

Waiting First Hand News.

Meanwhile President Wilson is, awaiting the coming of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, hurrying north from Mexico City to make a first hand report of conditions. His reports will be compared with those President Wilson has received from other sources.

Secretary Bryan, who has canceled some of his lecture dates that he may return to Washington Thursday or Friday, will participate in the conferences.

Ambassador Wilson was at Havana today, and an indication of the desire to hurry him to Washington was seen in a request by Secretary Bryan to Surgeon General Blue, of the public health service, to expedite the ambassador's passage through quarantine at Havana and Key West.

While the first intimation of the administration's apprehensive regard for the latest development came early today, there was no additional information during the day to supplement these semi-official announcements from high quarters that this government considered the situation a very grave one for the Huerta regime and looked forward to the development of the next two weeks with the deepest interest.

The Outrages at Durango.

Refusal of foreign consular representatives to hold a parley with General Urbina, the Mexican revolutionary leader, before his attack on Durango, is given as the reason for the outrages against residents, irrespective of nationality, following the recent rebe locupancy of the city, according to state department advices received today. General Urbina sent the consuls word of his intention to besiege Durango and sought a conference with them.

As a retaliation for their refusal to fee him, it is said, the city virtually was given over to the soldiery and the mob, who fired and plundered property indiscriminately. Money was demanded from the banks and from wealthy citizens. Prices are now very high and Consul Hamm fears that famine is ahead, although all Americans remaining in the place are reported well.

The state department has been advised that the government at Mexico City has expressed its intention of preventing a demonstration upon the arrival of the new Japanese minister, which might be considered anti-American in character.

State department reports say that all communication with interior Mexico was cut off yesterday.

Wilson Issues Statement.

So delicate is the Mexican situation considered in official circles that the white house issued the following statement tonight to clear up misrepresentations:

"On his attention being called to the following statements appearing in certain afternoon newspaper (1) that the president had stated that he would not recognize the Huerta administration and that it would not last year; (2) that the president had stated that this country would establish a protectorate over all Central American countries to guard the Panama canal, Secretary Tumulty stated that there was absolutely no foundation in truth for either of the above statements and emphatically denied that the president had expressed any opinion today or at any other time regarding the Huerta administration or its stability, or stated any intention as to its recognition."

Warship Goes to Aid Americans.

Mexico City, July 21.—Tuxpan, a maritime town 145 miles northwest of Vera Cruz, was captured by rebels under Joseph E. Vega Saturday after a hard fight. In answer to an appeal from the British consular representative, the United States battleship Louisiana, with Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher aboard, has sailed for that port. Tuxpan is situated on a river five miles from the Gulf of Mexico. It is an oil center and a considerable number of Americans reside there. If it should become necessary to give protection, Admiral Fletcher would have to land a force, as the Louisiana could not proceed beyond the gulf.

Vera Cruz, July 21.—The United States battleship Louisiana left here tonight under full speed. She is bound for Tuxpan, where, it is understood, Americans and foreign residents are in need of protection.

The American families are seeking refuge here, fearing that disturbances may follow the demonstrations in honor of the new Japanese minister.

SWEARS WATSON ACCEPTED CASH FROM INTERESTS

Mulhall Testifies the Indiana Man Was in the Pay of Manufacturers While Member of Congress.

$250 A WEEK FOR WATSON AND PROMISE OF $10,000

For This Money Mulhall Says Watson Agreed to Pass Bill for a Tariff Commission. Watson and Cabinet.

Washington, July 21.—Martin M. Mulhall, late "lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers, swore today that former Congressman James E. Watson, of Indiana, was employed in 1908 while he was still a member of the house to help put through a bill for a tariff commission. Mulhall testified that Watson was to receive retainer of $500, $250 a week while working for the bill and $10,000 if he got the measure through congress. He did not say who was to give the money.

Wanted Watson in Cabinet.

Mulhall's letters dealt today largely with what the National Association of Manufacturers was going to do for former Congressman James E. Watson, of Indiana, toward getting him a place in President Taft's cabinet and of how the association began work for a tariff commission. According to the letters Mulhall, Schwedtman and eventually President Van Cleave and others high in the councils of the association wanted Watson in the post of secretary of commerce and labor, after he had been defeated for governor of Indiana. In one letter Mulhall wrote:

"If Mr. Watson is selected for the appointment of secretary of commerce and labor he will be much more powerful in the cabinet of President Taft than he would be as governor of the great state of Indiana." In another he said: "If he (Mr. Watson) was secretary of commerce and labor it would be to upbuild our splendid organization and would give us the greatest relief throughout the country that any manufacturer ever had in the history of the nation."

On January 25, 1909, D. M. Parry, one-time president of the association, wrote to Mulhall:

"I would personally feel just as safe with Mr. Watson in that job (secretary of commerce and labor) as for Mr. Van Cleave or myself to have the chair."

Urged Watson on Taft.

The letters showed that Mulhall thought at least that Vice President Sherman, Speaker Cannon and many other prominent republicans were interested in Watson and that he had eventually become a more or less open candidate..

Mr. Sherman was quoted by Mulhall as being particularly desirous of helping Watson and promised to use all his influence with Mr. Taft to get the job. Senator Knox, who became secretary of state under Taft, was to be talked to about Watson by manufacturers and they were to make every effort to urge the appointment through committees and through members of the senate and house.

All through the day the letters told of the interest of Mulhall in a tariff commission. He swore that he was instructed to find out the views of every member of the house and most senators on this matter and letters were read giving the standing of scores of them. He finally mixed Watson up with the commission.

"I believe that Mr. Watson was employed by the committee of 100 of the tariff commission, when it was created," he swore, "and paid a certain amount of money per week for his services while he was here in Washington for that committee.

"I know at that meeting here this arrangement was made, they set a price on Mr. Watson of $500 for a retainer. Mr. Tmery set that price by applying to Mr. Kerby and the while he was here working in that work and $10,000 if he got the bill through at the end of the campaign."

"Mr. Watson at that time was not a member of congress?" suggested Senator Reed.

"Yes, he was a member of congress."

Nelson and Clapp on Stand.

Two senators, Nelson and Clapp, of Minnesota, tonight took the stand before the committee of their colleagues investigating the "lobby" and denied truth of the statements made by Martin M. Mulhall, former political worker, accelerator of congressional opinion and all around field worker for the National Association of Manufacturers.

In letters read into the record today, Mulhall told of conversations with Senator Nelson—a member of the lobby committee—in relation to the rejection early in 1909 of a bill amending the Sherman anti-trust law, by a senate subcommittee, of which Mr. Nelson was chairman.

Mulhall wrote to F. C. Schwedtman, secretary to James W. Van Cleave, president of the association, that he had seen Senator Nelson, and that the senator told him what transpired in his subcommittee. He swore on direct examination by Senator Cummins that Mr. Nelson had suggested that the association send a copy of the subcommittee's adverse report on the bill to the president (Mr. Roosevelt). In one letter Mulhall spoke of being introduced to Senator Clapp by Mr. Nelson and of talking with both men about a

PROVIDES STATE BOARD OF TAX EQUALIZERS

With One or Two Exceptions, Members of the Ways and Means Committee Line Up Behind the Bill.

Thanks to the untiring efforts of Chairman Akin, the ways and means committee of the house has got together at last on a tax revision measure. The Lipscomb bill with the amendments drafted by the subcommittee appointed last week will be reported to the house this morning.

With practically the unanimous support of the committee behind it, the measure stands a splendid chance of passing the house and being enacted into law. The bill as amended is in the nature of a compromise, some of the more stringent features of the original Lipscomb bill being modified to meet the views of the more conservative members of the committee, but the amended bill provides for a state board and gives that board power to effect equalization of tax returns among the counties.

Representative Sheppard, of Sumter, is outspoken against a state board in any shape and has announced that he would file a minority report to any bill with that feature in it. When he saw that he was hopelessly in the minority he left the committee room in high dudgeon without even the formality of asking to be excused by the chairman.

Almost Unanimous.

Other members who have been opposed to a state board remained in the room and did not raise any objection to the favorable report of the bill. It is not believed that Mr. Sheppard will get more than two members of the committee to join him in a minority report.

When the committee met in the afternoon it was in a better spirit for united action than at any time since the consideration of tax revision The subcommittee had been hard at work all day getting the amendments in shape and, without conceding the basic principles of the Lipscomb bill, suggestions made by each member had been adopted, so that the final report might meet the assent of all.

State Board Provided.

The state board provided in the bill consists of three members appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate for a term of six years each. They are to be paid $7 per diem for their services, and are not to sit more than fifty days in any one year. They are not to interfere with the individual taxpayer, but are charged solely with equalizing the returns among counties.

Great credit is due to Chairman Akin and his assistants on the subcommittee, Representatives Garlington, Melton, Swift, Jones of Coweta, Suggs and Lipscomb, for their work in getting the committee together. Mr. Jones was not on the subcommittee at first, but, being secretary of the whole committee, it was found necessary to add him. He proved a wheelhorse for work. He has been an ardent tax revisionist from start to finish, and his work in geting the bill in final shape can hardly be overestimated.

The only member of the subcommittee who dissented from some of the features of the bill as finally reported was Dr. Stovall, of Elbert. As he is known to be an earnest believer in tax revision, it is not believed that he will insist on the adoption of his plan, now that the committee has agreed on another.

The amendments drafted by the subcommittee followed in the main the suggestions made by Mr. Suggs, of Haralson, at last Friday's meeting. It has required unusual courage on the part of Mr. Suggs to take the stand that he has, as he is a farmer, and comes from a county that is believed to be against the creation of a state board.

Following are the amendments made to the Lipscomb bill by subcommittee, which, with few changes, were adopted by the whole committee:

"Committee Amendments to House Bill No. 6:

"Committee moves to amend section 1 so as to read as follows: Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Georgia that a state board of tax equalizers is hereby created to consist of three members to be appointed by the governor and approved by the senate and shall hold their office for and during the term of six years, and until their successors are appointed and quilified; provided, that the first member of the board appointed under the provisions of this act shall be appointed for a term of two years, one for a term of four years and one for a term of six years, except where appointments are made to fill an existing vacancy, if at any time there should be a vacancy in said board caused by death, resignation, expiration of term of office or otherwise. Such vacancy shall be filled by the governor, by an appointment to hold for the remainder of the unexpired term.

"The members of said board shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, take and subscribe before the governor or before some officer designated by the governor, an oath to faithfully and impartially equalize taxes between the several counties of this state and to discharge the duties imposed upon them by this act. The members of said state board shall be citizens and freeholders of said state and shall be for the term for which they are appointed, and two years thereafter, ineligible to hold any state, county or municipal office, but may be appointed to succeed themselves as a member of said state board.

"Committee amends by striking section two of the original bill, and inserting in lieu thereof, the following:

" 'Section 2. Be it further enacted that the members of said state board shall choose one of their number as chairman and shall fix the term during which the member shall act as chairman, provided the term so fixed shall not be less than two years.'

"The members of said state board shall receive as their compensation $7 per day for the days actually served, and 2½ cents per mile for the distance actually traveled, and shall not be in session more than fitfy days in any one year.

"The committee amends by striking out section 8 of said house bill No. 6, and inserting in lieu thereof, the following:

" 'Section 8. Be it further enacted that the several tax receivers of the state shall close their books for returns on or before June 15 of each year and that before the 22d day of June, 1914, and before June 22d in each year thereafter, said county board shall meet, and it shall be the duty of the tax receiver of the county to lay before them the tax returns of the county for the current year. The county board shall immediately go through said returns and equalize said returns either lowering or increasing the valuations of real property included in said returns and said board shall make note and attach to each return the changes it makes in the valuation of real property included in said return and also the additions of real property to be made in sand return.

"When such equilization and changes have been made by the countetaoietaoi pun punpunpun of the taxpayer to pay taxes on the amount of the valuations and equalizations made by the county board; provided, however, the county board shall immediately give notice to any taxpayer of any change made in his returns, and, provided further, that if any taxpayer shall object to the assessments thus made he may, within five days after such notice of change, enter in writing an appeal to the county board and shall set forth the grounds of appeal, and when such appeal has been filed with the chairman of the county board, the county board shall fix a time for hearing and shall proceed in a summary way to hear such evidence as may be offered by the taxpayer and tax receiver, and such documentary evidence as may be produced before said board under the provisions of this act. After hearing the evidence the county board shall fix and determine the valuations to be made upon said property of said taxpayer and the additions of property to be made to the returns of said taxpayer. If any taxpayer is dissatisfied with the decision of the county board it shall be the taxpayer's privilege to have his assessments and the property on which he shall pay taxes determined by three disinterested persons, one of whom the taxpayer shall select, the other shall be selected by the county board, and these two shall select a third, a majority of whom shall fix the assessments and property on which said taxpayer shall pay taxes and said decision shall be final; provided, that any taxpayer dissatisfied with a decision of the county board shall, within three days from such decision, give notice of same, and the name of his arbitrator to the county board, the county board shall name its arbitrator within six days from the date of its decision, and the arbitrators shall determine the question finally within ten days from the date of the naming of the arbitrator by the county board, else the decision of the county board shall stand affirmed and befinal.'

"The committee further amends by striking out all of section 9 of said bill No. 6, and substituting in lieu thereof as follows:

" 'Section 9. Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that said county board shall also examine the returns of personal property of each taxpayer on the digest of the current year, and if, in the opinion of said county board, any taxpayer has failed to return his personal property at a true valuation or has omitted from his returns personal property that should be returned, said county board shall cause a written notice to be served upon said taxpayer to appear before it at such time and place as may be fixed in the notice and shall proceed to examine said taxpayer under oath, and also to examine such witnesses as the taxpayer may see fit to call and such witnesses as the board may see fit to summons same. After the hearing, the county board shall fix the amount of the return to be made by the taxpayer on his personal property for the current year and the tax receiver shall enter the same on the digest for the current year. If any taxpayer is dissatisfied with the decision of the county board, he may appeal to arbitration, as provided in section 8 of this act.'

"The committee amends by striking all of section 12 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

" 'Section 12. Be it further enacted, that the comptroller general shall be the secretary of the state board of equalizers.'

"The committee amends by striking all of section 18 and inserting in lieu thereof as follows:

" 'Section 18. Be it further enacted, that the tax receiver in the several counties in this state shall be the secretary of the county board, but without power to vote.'

"The committee amends by striking out section 22 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

" 'Section 22. Be it further enacted, that nothing contained in this act shall apply to those persons, firms or corporations who may be permitted under the law to make their returns to the comptroller general.'

"Committee further amends by numbering section 22 of original bill number 24.

"Section 23. Be it further enacted, that the county boards in the several counties shall complete their revision of the returns of taxpayers in their respective counties within twenty days from June 22 of each year."

Now that the tax revision bill is out of the way, the next measure which the ways and means committee will take up is the general tax bill. Messrs. Garlington, Swift, Jones, of Coweta, Suggs, Lipscomb, Melson and Cole have been appointed a subcommittee to act with the chairman in drafting this measure. They will get to work on it this morning, and report Thursday. It is the intention of Chairman Akin to have the general tax bill in the house Friday morning.

Public Comfort Station Given Warm Endorsement by J. K. Orr

COUNCIL TAKES STEPS FOR PUBLIC COMFORT

Councilman Sam Shepard, one of the leaders in the fight for the establishment of a public comfort station in Atlanta, has asked the city council to start the ball rolling. In a resolution he offered Monday afternoon Councilman Shepard asks that a committee of six be appointed to draw up plans for the station and perfect the preliminary details before council is finally asked for an appropriation. Councilman Shepard suggests that L. C. Green, J. K. Orr and Lee Barnes be appointed on the committee, and that Mayor Woodward name three members of council. The resolution was adopted by council.

"Business men and women are strong for a public comfort station, and the shoppers are unanimous for the proposed plan," said J. K. Orr, commenting on the hundreds of indorsements which are pouring in to L. C. Green, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee which has as its objective a public comfort station.

Haralson Bleckley has submitted to the chamber committee tentative plans for a structure to be erected in the heart of the city, and the project has aroused such enthusiasm that those interested believe the building will be in the process of construction before the end of the year.

The plans provide for a comfort station which will be a permanent feature of Atlanta, built of concrete or brick. The specifications call for a frontage of 36 feet and a depth of 46 feet. There will be entrances on each side of the building, one for men, the other for women, and an up-to-date cigar stand and soda fountain will be located between the two entrances. The rent from this concession will provide at least part of the upkeep of the plant.

"Such a building is something Atlanta ought to have, and no city of our size can afford to be without it," said Mr. Orr, "for there are more advantages than one could print in the public comfort project.

"Why, it's essential, and marks the growth of the city. We go to other large cities, Washington, New York or Chicago, and public comforts are recognized as indispensable.

"On the other hand, in smaller towns like Calhoun, Ga., they have at least a rest room for the ladies. There is every good reason why we should have one."

Mr. Orr's argument was heartily indorsed by many leading business men. A strong fight for the project will be made by Wilmer L. Moore, president of the chamber of commerce; Walter G. Cooper, secretary; Mayor Woodward, Recorder Nash Broyles, Chief Beavers and L. C. Green, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee in charge of the public comfort campaign.

The Constitution is in receipt of a hearty letter from Mr. Green in appreciation of the editorial support given the movement, and Atlantans everywhere have awakened to the vital need of the much longed-for comfort. According to the committee in charge, all details have been completed for the building except the exact location, and there are several central sites in view. Within a few months there is every assurance that the required $10,000 will be forthcoming.

recent decision under the Sherman act.

Questioned closely by Senator Cummins, Mulhall first swore he had been told by Mr. Nelson what had occurred in the committee, even to how its members voted on the proposed amendment; pursued further he agreed that possibly he had not received such information and then switched again and declared that if he had reported that he had received such information it must have been correct.

Nelson Denies Mulhall's Story.

"I have no recollection of seeing Mr. Mulhall or talking to him about this bill, and I certainly would not have talked to him about what transpired before the judiciary committee," said Sentor Nelson tonight. "It is possible that he may have stepped inside my office and gotten them from my clerk. Mr. Wicks, my clerk, who was with me then and with me now, says that he cannot recollect even having seen Mulhall in our room. So far as the report is concerned you all know that Mr. Mulhall could get these reports from the document room. I have no recollection of ever meeting Mr. Mulhall or talking to him on these subjects or anything else. Ever since Mr. Mulhall appeared here before the committee I have been racking my brain to think or recall if I ever saw him or had a talk with him. There is a possibility that I may be mistaken. I understand that Mr. Mulhall had a mustache then, and perhaps that may account for the fact that I do not recognize him now."

"I have not the slightest recollection of ever seeing Mr. Mulhall, and certainly I have no recollection that Senator Nelson introduced me to him in his room," swore Senator Clapp. "It is very clear in my mind that if I had I would have recollected it."

GEORGIAN'S BRAVE FIGHT TO SAVE HIS SWEETHEART

Undismayed by Fire and Water, Roy Camden Rescues Miss Thompson.

Atchison, Kan., July 21.—(Special.) Roy Camden, son of F. W. Camden, who resides near Decatur, Ga., was badly injured today while saving his fiance, Myrtle Thompson, of this place.

Camden became acquaitned with Miss Thompson while she was visiting in Atlanta four weeks ago.

He came here to visit her and today took her motor-boat riding on the Missouri river. The gasoline tank exploded, covering both with burning oil. With arms and face seared, Camden sprang into the water with the girl and tried to swim to shore. The current was too swift, and he was carried 2 miles down stream, when he managed to catch a snag sticking out of the water, to which he clung with one arm while holding the girl above water with the other. He managed to remove part of his clothing, made a rope and fastened the girl to the snag so her head might remain above water After clinging to the snag for several hours, they were seen by passengers on a Missouri Pacific train near Dalby, Kan. Roy Lewis, a nearby farmer, was notified and rescued the two in a rowboat, and they were brought to Atchison. The girl was burned on the chest, hands and arms. Camden was also badly burned It is thought that both will recover.

HE BLEW OFF HIS HEAD WITH DYNAMITE STICK

LAST POE LANDMARK PASSES AT RICHMOND

Richmond, Va., July 21.—Marching progress has laid hands upon the last landmark in Richmond of Edgar Allan Poe. His boyhood home, the house of the Allens, long ago gave place to commercial buildings, the Swan Tavern and the Bird-in-Hand have passed away, and today the city began razing the old-fashioned brick building in which Poe edited The Southern Literary Messenger, in opening approaches to a net concrete bridge over James river.

BACON IS ATTACKED FOR ATTACKING PAGE

Senior Senator From Georgia Is Taken to Task by New York Editor.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 21.—(Special.)—Senator Bacon's indignation over Walter H. Page's book, "The Southerner," and his statement that had it come to his attention earlier, Mr. Page would never have been confirmed as ambassador to Great Britain, has stirred up a local controversy here.

The New York Times in an editorial this morning entitled "A Queer Point of View" takes Senator Bacon to task in this way:

"Truly this is a new kind of statesmanship we are getting a taste of these days. The patriotic Bacon, unless he is misrepresented, will not permit anybody who has ever written a hard word, true or untrue, about any state of the republic, to enter the diplomatic service. Washington Irving, James Russell Lowell and John Hay would have had short shrift from Bacon.

"'As a matter of fact, 'The Southerner,' the book accredited to Mr. W. H. Page, to which, it is said, Senator Bacon objects, has been highly praised by many southerners as a veracious and spirited account of development in the south after the war between the states."

Commenting upon this Senator Bacon said that Mr. Page in his book had reflected upon his own people and section and upon the democratic party in an unpardonable way.

"I would not have permitted his confirmation had I known the contents of this book earlier, and I am not alone among the democratic senators in feeling that way," Senator Bacon declared.

GOOLSBY, OF GEORGIA, WOULD FIGHT MEXICO

Washington, July 21.—(Special.)—A patriotic Georgian, who is evidently looking for trouble in Mexico, has writen the following letter to Senator Hoke Smith

"If the United States decides on intervention in Mexico would the administration accept a volunteer company from this locality?"

The letter is dated at Adgateville, Ga., and signed Brax E. Goolsby. Mr. Goolsby does not say whether he wants to raise a company or only enlist.

MAYOR MAY HOLD UP DICTAGRAPH WARRANT

Objects to Paying Expenses of Installing Instrument in Williams House.

A. R. Colcord, chairman of the police committee, has been asked to approve a warrant for $19 which represents the expense to which the detective department was put to install the dictagraph in room 36, Williams house.

Chairman Colcord said Monday that he did not approve of the use to which the dictagraph was put, but explained that he has been informed that it was never intended to entrap Mayor Woodward or any other city official.

"I think that I shall approve the warrant," Chairman Colcord said. "My only reason for holding the warrant up, as I have said before, was to learn by what authority it was used. There was some conflict, but I have found that the proper authority was given." He indicated that the conflict of authority was between Chief Beavers and Detective Chief Lanford.

The approved warrant will go to council with authority for payment. The mayor will have to sign the check, otherwise the money will not be paid out. Mayor Woodward strongly indicates that he will not sign.

The amount represents the expense of installing the instrument. It does not include the fee of Stenographer Gentry, who took the conversations of Mayor Woodward, Colonel Felder, C. C. Jones and others who were inveigled into the Williams house by Collyar and Febuary.

WATSON BOUND OVER FOR WHITE SLAVERY

Girl Claims That Quitman Man Took Her to Immoral Resort at Jacksonville.

Valdosta, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—W. R. Watson, whose home recently has been at Quitman, Ga., was given a hearing here today before United States Commissioner O. W. Franklin on a charge of white slavery and bound over to the federal court under a bond of $2,500.

Watson is charged with taking Mamie Coker, a 22-year-old country girl, from her home in Brooks county to Jacksonville, Fla., for immoral purposes. She appeared against the accused and stated that she had accompanied him to Jacksonville and remained an inmate of an immoral resort there for three or four weeks.

The girl, her mother and a brother all testified that Watson had promised to marry the girl and that they left her home with the statement that they would be married that night or the next day. Watson made a statement in which he denied any promise of marriage and said the girl had proposed the trip to Jacksonville. Later they both returned to Quitman, where Watson was arrested. He is now in jail here and it is believed will not be able to give bond for his release.

DETECTIVES POUNCE ON MRS. PANKHURST

Infuriated Suffragettes Try to Rescue Leader, But Are Beaten Back.

London, July 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant suffragette leader, who outwitted the police on Saturday, was arrested this afternoon as she entered a public hall to attend the weekly conclave of the Woman's Social and Political union.

Detectives pounced on Mrs. Pankhurst with dramatic suddenness and whisked her away in a taxicab.

Several women tried to rescue Mrs. Pankhurst. Using umbrellas they trounced the detectives. Six women were arrested.

Policemen closed up behind Mrs. Pankhurst and her captors and stemmed the rush of infuriated women, whose yells of "murderers!" "assassins!" attracted crowds.

Some of the women used hat pins as weapons. Several persons were badly hurt.

When she arrived at Holloway jail Mrs. Pankhurst refused to leave the taxicab, compelling detectives to carry her in.

Two-Year-Old Is Drowned.

Winfield, Kan., July 21.—The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Horner, of near Cambridge, strayed away from home and was drowned in Grouse creek. Soon afterward the body was recovered but efforts at resuscitation were unavailing.

TAX OFFICE MERGER PASSED OVER VETO

Unfair Tactics Charged to Alderman Nutting by Councilman Orville Hall, Who Signed Majority Report.

The resolution drafted by Alderman James R. Nutting which provides for a charter amendment to "merge" the various departments of the tax office, was adopted by council yesterday afternoon.

The measure was passed over the veto of Mayor James G. Woodward and a majority of the members of the tax committee by a vote of 18 to 7.

Councilman Charles Whiteford Smith, chairman of the tax committee, led the fight to sustain the mayor. He declared that the office should be allowed to remain as it is, under the operation of law which was secured by Alderman Candler in 1912. He declared that since the amendment the returns have increased $2,300,000.

Unfair tactics were charged to Alderman Nutting by Councilman Orville H. Hall, who signed the majority report. He said that action was delayed on the mayor's veto in order that the opponents might have time to muster a majority.

"I know that there is no harmony in the tax office," declared Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, one of the minority report signers. He produced figures to show that prior to the Candler amendment the returns increased considerably.

In his veto message, Mayor Woodward took the position that the law, as it stands, gives the taxpayer an opportunity, if he has a grievance, to appeal to the tax assessors, and if the assessors do not give relief, to take his case to the tax committee. The mayor said that it appeared to him that the resolution was drafted to allow someone to distribute patronage.

Alderman Nutting said he believed the change would be beneficial, and pointed out that returns in the past years showed that the system was not a good one.

GETTYSBURG MEDAL SENT TO GEN. WEST FROM PA. GOVERNOR

"1863-1913. Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg."

This is the simple inscription beneath the kneeling figures of two veterans, union and confederate, whose hands are clasped in brotherly love, as engraved upon a beautiful silver medal received yesterday by General Andrew J. West, in appreciation of his service as Gettysburg commissioner.

Beside the kneeling pair stands the angel of peace, holding an olive branch. On the reverse side is the picture of two hands tightly clasped, and underneath the words, "Reunion of Civil War Veterans, 1913." The medal, which is a very attractive work of art, was sent to General West by Governor John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania, and was accompanied by a letter of beautiful expression and tribute.

"I have the honor to present to you this medal of silver," reads the letter, "in appreciation of your active and earnest interest as the representative of our commission from the state of Georgia, and in aiding us in every possible way in achieving the success that attended the great reunion of the Blue and the Gray at Gettysburg. I trust it may appeal to you as an acceptable memento of an occasion that surely in divine providence is destined to accomplish the reunion of our nation."

ASK CODE AMENDMENT.

City May Inspect Elevators and Steam Boilers.

Councilman Smith offered a resolution in council yesterday authorizing the general assembly of Georgia to amend the city code by inserting a provision which will allow the city to make inseptcions of elevators and steam boilers.

The amendment will be made to th ordinance creating the smoke and gas commission. The inspection of boilers and elevators will be placed under the supervision of Inspector Poole. It will become necessary for the city to appoint additional inspectors to assist in the work.

NEW COUNTY FIGHTS MEET OPPOSITION

Sentiment Is Steadily Growing Against Time Taken Up by These Conflicts.

Mainly out of courtesy to Mr. Wohlwender ,of Muscogee, who, through inadvertence of calling the question last Thursday, shut off debate upon the question of creating the new county of Candler, thereby producing many adverse votes so that the bill might be killed and reconsidered, the house on Monday morning voted, 92 to 59, to reconsider that bill. It was evident, however, that the sentiment in the lower branch against the consideration of more new counties at this session of the legislature is greatly on the increase.

When Mr. Wohlwender introduced a motion for the reconsideration of creating Candler county expressions against the consideration of more counties at this session of the legislature were forthcoming on all sides

Made a Mistake.

Mr. Wohlwender explained in introducing his motion that he believed he had made a mistake last Thursday in calling for the question, and that in so doing he had not meant to produce the unfair situation of shutting off a hearing from the opposition to the new county. He said that the debate which followed that call for the question had irritated him, and that he may have been guilty of rash expressions for which he desired the house to accept his apology. But, he said, that he considered a reconsideration urgent, both for fair play and for a vindication of himself.

Mr. Fullbright, of Burke, who early in the session introduced a resolution to defer consideration of all new counties until next legislature, which resolution was referred to the committee on rules and has not yet been recommended to the house, immediately protested against the reconsideration of Candler. He pointed out that the house having carried Mr. Wohlwender's request for the vote upon the question has relieved him of responsibility, and that a refusal to reconsider could not be construed as an accusation of unfairness against the gentleman from Muscogee.

"This session of the legislature," said Mr. Fullbright, "is half over, and what have we done?

Passed No Important Bills.

"We have passed not a single important general bill, but on the contrary we have killed about half a dozen general bills, and on each of these there have been or are pending motions to reconsider. Why can't this house stand by what it does? If we have killed a bill we have killed it, and we should not waste time in reconsidering when that time should be given to matters of most urgent importance which are awaiting the action of this house.

"As for the new counties, it is bad enough to have to thrash out those to come and be harassed day and night by lobbyists, without fighting again over the same battlegrounds of yesterday. Let's stand by what we have done and get down to business."

Mr. Hardeman, of Jefferson, said:

"This house has too much business to attend to without digging up matters that have already been disposed of. We are face to face with the propositions of revising our taxes, rehabilitating our treasury, paying the school teachers and other legislation of the utmost moment, and the people of Georgia are watching us to see what we are going to do about it. We are half way through the session and have practically nothing to show for it. We have thirteen days more, and it is high time we got busy."

Mr. Hardeman did not hesitate to fire a warm volley into the ranks of the lobbyists.

"A lobby, more evident than in many years, exists at this legislature, and moreover, a lobby of a very distasteful character, in which improper influences are being brought to bear. A man cannot work, eat or sleep without being butonholed by a lobbyist.

Would Mean Extra Session.

"If you reconsider this bill," he continued, "the people of Georgia will hold you to account. To consider all the new counties will make an extra session inevitable."

Mr. Gower, of Crisp, rose in reply, stating that the house of representatives has done more than any house in many years in the same length of time, and advocated a reconsideration.

Mr. Hardeman interrupted Mr. Gower with the question:

"Will you enumerate to the house the things it has done."

Mr. Gower replied:

"I repeat that we have organized and done more than any legislature in years." Mr. Gower argued that the point in question was not the creation of Candler county, but the question of a fair deal.

A motion to reconsider the resolution adopted by the house last Friday for the adjustment of the claims of the people of Ducktown against the copper plants, was lost.

The consolidation of the vote electing Senator Bacon to succeed himself will take place in a joint session of the house and senate at noon Tuesday, according to a resolution adopted by the house Monday.

A resolution introduced by Mr. Foster, of Floyd, instructing the commission on the Georgia School for the Deaf to visit the institution between sessions of the legislature was adopted by the house. No appropriation was attached to these instructions.

SEWER TO BE EXTENDED.

City to Stop Drainage Waste Flow Into Steel Pond.

The city is liable for heavy damages unless something is done immediately to stop the flow of drainage waste and sewage into the pond of the Atlanta Steel company, according to a communication sent to council by City Attorney James L. Mayson, yesterday afternoon.

Council quickly adopted a resolution urging the finance committee to provide for $8,000 to relieve the situation by extending the Grove street sewer. The committee will be asked to find the money immediately.

Mondoy Judge Pendleton decided that the sewer was a nuisance, and while he refused to grant the restraining order asked by the steel company, he put the city on notice that the pond could no longer be used, and notified the city that unless the conditions were remedied damages would accrue.

ROUNDSMEN TO GET AX.

All Will Be Made Sergeants by Colcord's Action.

On the recommendation of the police commission, Councilman A. R. Colcord, of the police committee, yesterday asked council to abolish the positions of roundsmen in the police department and create offices for fifteen sergeants.

At the present time there are only nine sergeants and six roundsmen. There is practically no difference between roundsmen and sergeants, except that the latter receive $5 a month more pay. It is the intention of the police committee to increase the number of sergeants to twenty later on.

New Hotel for LaGrange.

LaGrange, July 21.—(Special.)—A campaign has been started by the citizens and other interested parties to further the plans of the proposed new hotel to cost $100,000. COTTON MEN TO MEET TO FORM ASSOCIATION

Association to Be Formed for Purpose of Securing Reforms in the Handling of Cotton.

Macon, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—The Central and South Georgia Cotton Buyers' association will be formed at a meeting to be held at the Dempsey hotel, in Macon, Thursday for the purpose of working certain reforms in the handling of cotton. Fully 200 members are assured.

The new maritime rules, which go into effect soon, bring up problems which must be met, including the uniform size for cotton bales, the penalizing of bales too light, and the use of better bagging at gins.

The cotton mills are said to be interested in these reforms, and wish to secure good weight as well as the shipper.

PLUNDERING AND PREACHING.

To leave debts unpaid when one has plenty with which to pay them is plain dishonesty. To preach morality to others in the face of such a situation is plain hypocrisy. The great state of Georgia must not plead guilty to either count. The state has tremendous sources of wealth back of it. Yet for forty-four years it has made thousands of country school teachers wait for from ten to twelve months for their slim pay. It has made thousands of them pay tribute to shylocks in pay discounted.

Now the state, typified by its law-making body, is faced with a proposition to make Bible-reading mandatory in the public schools. The Bible is simply a concrete square-deal, whether in any language, any denomination and under even pagan creeds. Its foremost tenet is HONESTY AND GOOD FAITH. The state is culpable in dishonesty and bad faith. The spectacle is inconsistent. It inspires N. K. Williston, a correspondent, elsewhere to ask:

"Can a burglar preach honesty?"

He says, further, that at the final analysis the Bible is the repository of the principles of honesty and fair dealing common to all denominations and even to the heathen. How, then, he asks, can the state of Georgia enforce morality on the school children of Georgia, when the state itself stands faced with the nakedness of the eighth commandment:

"THOU SHALT NOT STEAL."

To the shame of all Georgia and of many previous legislatures and administrations of Georgia, it must be said that the indictment is supported, in principle at least, by facts. The employer that hires an employee and then withholds his pay is guilty of dishonesty, to put it charitably. That is what Georgia has been doing for forty-four years with her country school teachers.

Cartoonist Gregg has accurately expressed the situation in today's Constitution. Mr. Williston is right. The state cannot afford to make an issue of perfunctory Bible reading until it purges itself with regard to the country school teachers. He is right, too, when he says no legislature can afford to underwrite abstract morality until it corrects Georgia's dishonest tax system.

These are some plain facts regarding the proposal to decree the reading of the Bible in the common schools of Georgia, and they deal with just one phase of the situation. The other is handled also by Mr. Williston, and by two well-known advocates of organized religion in Georgia, the Rev. H. R. Bernard, secretary of the board of co-operation of the Georgia Baptist convention, and auditor of the convention's mission board; and by the Rev. J. D. Winchester, evangelist for the Georgia Baptist Mission board. These men are, naturally, zealous advocates of their denomination. But they resent as dangerous, undemocratic and subversive of true religion the mixing of church and state, or anything that savors of force in the process of proselyting. Mr. Bernard expresses it vividly when he declares that if the bill becomes a law "you will find that you have dug up more snakes than you will ever be able to kill."

Mr. Williston directs attention to a point that should challenge thought among all denominations. He refers to The Constitution's report of the views of the preachers of Atlanta on the movement. The denominations cited are wide apart as the poles on the proposition. And there are apparently irreconcilable internal differences within more than one of the denominations. If this is true in just one city and at this early stage of the proceedings, what bitterness and dissension may not develop if the bill becomes a law and the whole state is involved?

If mere agitation has precipitated these differences, what may not be expected from application? Is there any guarantee that the state may not become the theater of religious feuds of ineradicable nature and doing more harm to genuine religion than all the churches can stamp out?

In justice to all concerned, we doubt if this movement begun with due consideration of the gravity of the matter. Undoubtedly, the bill is well-intentioned. But that is all that can be said in its behalf.

THE EXTRA-LEGAL LENIENCY.

The startling action of a grand jury in Kansas City precipitates almost a new or at least an infrequent feature in our jurisprudence, and that is what may be called extra-legal leniency. A defendant had been indicted for and convicted of murder. The evidence was direct. There was not the slightest doubt in the minds of any one of the jurymen of his guilt.

Upon the finding and delivering of a verdict of acquittal, which amazed the courtroom, the foreman asked permission to speak to the prisoner. He told the latter that the jury was satisfied as to his guilt, but they, its members, believed he deserved another chance. Would he agree to mend his ways and look after his old mother if that chance was forthcoming? Of course, in the predicament of the defendant, there was but one answer to such a question. He walked out a free man, with not even a suspended sentence over his head.

The sanity of procedure of this nature is open to question. The offender had shown himself to be an individual of dissolute habits and violent temperament. If he had yielded to the malignant influences once, there was no guarantee that he would not do so again. It is easy to understand that the average jury, moved by compassion, might have been induced to think a new try at life would be to his benefit.

And that is [illegible] where our present system of jurisprudence falls down. If the man showed elements of compunction and tractability, he ought to have been given the opportunity to show the faith that was in him. At the same time, it was distinctly the duty of the law, acting through the jury, to conserve the interests of society. This could have been done had the man been placed either under suspended sentence or indeterminate sentence. But it appears wrong and a subversion of the deterrent function of justice to free a convicted murderer with no stronger punishment or restraint than a mild and unsecured promise to "be good."

It is performances of this nature that still farther increase the already heavy handicap under which society struggles as against the criminal. As it is now, it must fight with technicality and sometimes indifferent public sentiment. Then the pardoning power is often flagrantly abused. If, on top of this, juries go out of their way to formally release murderers, where will we stand in the last analysis?

THE NORTH GEORGIA APPLE.

What is the matter with the capitalists of Georgia and the farmers of north Georgia that they do not turn to the culture of apples? Here and there is a sporadic orchard, and even a company for promoting the industry. But as a whole, it is languishing and the fact does not reflect credit upon the business acumen of Georgia. For, if ever a fortune, an easy fortune, was neglected, it is the fortune that lies in the production of apples in Georgia.

The Blue Ridge section of this state is ideally adapted to apple culture. Apples from Rabun county have taken prizes in national apple shows. Here in Atlanta, individual orchards have made displays of fruit that would do credit to New England or to the famed apple belt of western Pennsylvania.

In practically all of the mountain counties of the state there are hundreds of acres fitted by nature for transformation into orchards now lying idle. The sheltered coves in which apples thrive wondrously are abundant. The climate, which is just the proper severity and variation for firm, healthy fruit, is available. There is enough territory now virtually going to seed to produce apples to feed the whole country.

But with apples, as with corn, wheat, oats, cattle and other products, Georgia is sending money outside the state for the products that should be raised here.

The wonder is greater from the fact that while thousands of dollars and incalculable energy is invested in the peach crop, only an insignificant amount of time and money is spent on apples. And as between the investment values of the two crops, it is almost impossible to draw a comparison. The peach, even of the hardiest variety, is always menaced by a late frost. The apple survives many harsh frosts and thrives on weather that would destroy the peach. It has, of course, its insect foes, but they do not compare in number or virulence with those against which the peach grower must direct his efforts.

The next few years ought to see a decided turning to the apple industry. If the railroads and trade boards will do a little timely exploiting in this direction, it should not be difficult to turn the tide.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON,
The Famous Prose Poet

PENALTIES OF WEALTH.

"I do get tired of the eternal struggle to keep the wolf from the door," complained the landlady. "I sometimes can't help envying the rich, who don't have to worry over the grocers' and butchers' bills."

"And yet if you were rich, my dear Mrs. Jiggers," said the star boarder, "you'd have your troubles just the same. They'd be a different kind of troubles, but they'd make you just as tired. Honest poverty has its disadvantages, yet when everything is summed up, it isn't so bad, always providing that your poverty isn't carried to extremes.

"Long ago, before I worked out a system of philosophy that is equal to all emergencies, I used to envy the rich. I thought it extremely unfair that one man should be able to wear purple and fine linen while his neighbor couldn't always command burlap. I thought I'd be perfectly happy if I had all the money I wanted to blow, without having to work for it. I was reasonably modest in my desires. I didn't ask for any Aladdin's lamp, and I didn't yearn for the Midas touch. I'd have been satisfied with an income of $10 a day.

"And in the winter of my discontent, Mrs. Jiggers, I received a telegram from a lawyer in my old home town saying that my Uncle Absalom had cashed in and made me his heir. It didn't seem possible. Uncle Absalom was such a tightwad it never occurred to me that he'd leave his money to anybody. I thought he'd pack it up in asbestos and take it with him. Moreover, my uncle had always been disgusted with my course. The fact that I threw my money at the Jackdaws gave him one of those rectangular pains you read about in the almanacs. And when I was a young man I beat him out of his eyeteeth in a horse trade, and I took it for granted he'd never forgive me. So when I received that telegram I stood aghast. You ought to try standing aghast some day, Mrs. Jiggers, when you are cramped from sitting down too long.

"The fact that I had inherited a lot of money from my uncle got into the papers, and within twenty-four hours I began to realize that the thing of being rich is no snap. All the tiresome, nervy and fresh people in the United States hunted me up, and wanted to sell me junk that I had no earthly use for. People who used to look at me with haughty disdain hunted me up and tried to sell me a half interest in a corner grocery, or an equity in a herd of polar bears, or a farm in the Gulf of Mexico. It really was annoying the way they camped around my boarding house and waylaid me in the streets and alleys.

"Then a number of weatherbeaten widows who had been on the bargain counter a long time camped on my trail and showed an ungentlemanly determination to railroad me to the altar, and I had great difficulty in dodging them. Every man who inherits money has the widows to contend with. Young women who haven't been married have considerable romance in their composition, and really look with contempt upon financial matters where their affections are concerned. They'd rather marry a straw colored mustache and a tenor voice than a bank passbook. But it's different with widows, Mrs. Jiggers.

"Their first experience in matrimony convinced them that there is nothing more satisfactory in the long run than a good standing at the bank, and they deliberately look around for well fixed victims. Men who inherit money unexpectedly are easy marks for the widows as a rule, because they are rattled by their good luck, and forget the first principles of self defense.

"One of the widows who pestered me nearly to death was a female who had turned me down twice in the days of my adversity. I pursued her with a zeal worth a better cause. I bought her large bouquets and expensive boxes of candy, and ran up a big livery bill, and all in vain. Twice that woman shooed me off her front porch, yet when she heard that I had inherited a fortune, she made my life a burden. I couldn't turn a corner without meeting her. She even followed me into the barber shops and cigar stores. I really believe she'd have got me in the end, but just when I was growing desperate I got another telegram saying that a later will had been found, and I didn't draw even a plugged nickel. And it was astonishing, Mrs. Jiggers, how abruptly that widow abandoned the pleasures of the chase."

THE MONROE DOCTRINE A DANGEROUS ASSET

Editor Constitution: In a recent issue you say in regard to Mexican affairs: "The United States is irrevocably committed to the Monroe doctrine."

Why is this so, and why cannot we release ourselves from this old man of the sea who is riding us to death?

There is not a Latin-American republic whose people do not despise this country, and it is all on account of this plagued Monroe doctrine. They seem to think we have assumed the role of their guardian. They resent this and the implied reflection upon their standing as republics and governments. In addition to this, European governments resent our position. In fine, the Monroe doctrine brings hostility from every quarter.

For heaven's sake let us keep our own house in order and let these other people understand that they are accountable to the civilized world for their own actions.

I would not sacrifice the life of one good American citizen for the whole of Central America or the Philippines.

F. H. COLLEY.
Washington, Ga., July 20, 1913.

Mighty Good Advice!

Editor Constitution: I see from the press reports that the United States senate contemplates several weeks' discussion on the present tariff measures, which recently passed the national house of representatives.

I cannot see the necessity for this prolonged discussion. The tariff bill, and its associated measures, were thoroughly settled by the house of ways and means committee, and met the approval of the president, and measured up fully to our democratic platform. Why it is now that members of the senate desire to keep the country in suspense, and the business of the country unsettled and confused by an additional delay of final action upon this all-important legislation, demands explanation. This useless lengthy delay is injury, first to the business interests of the United States, and is out of line with the intention of our democratic administration. Democrats being in control of the senate have no need to thus cripple the administration and retard the business of the country, and if they have not learned by this time what the democratic platform means and what the people of the country meant in casting their ballots in the last national election, a five weeks' discussion among them will hardly serve to give them the needed information. What we need in this country is more business methods in legislation, including that passed upon by the United States senate, and less frivolous politics, and if United States senators would give more careful attention to administrative legislation and less attention to interference with various little appointive offices, perhaps the much-needed legislation of the country could be more rapidly concluded.

I believe if the democratic press would take an immediate and positive stand along this line it would have a very great beneficial effect.

G. R. HUTCHENS.
Rome, Ga., July 20, 1913.

HOW CAN GEORGIA PLUNDER AND PREACH TO TEACHERS IN ONE AND SAME BREATH

Editor Constitution: Your editorial pointing out the dangers of forcing the Bible into the common schools of Georgia was printed in the same issue with news stories that bear out seriatim all of your contentions. You report in this morning's Constitution the views of preachers of a number of denominations. These views supply at the very outset of the discussion, before the bill has become a law, and in one city only out of the whole state, a conclusive demonstration of the possibilities of dissension and disagreement should Georgia make religious discussion mandatory in her public schools.

The Rev. Dr. John E. White, of the Second Baptist church, is unalterably opposed to the introduction of the Bible into the schools. His co-religionist, Dr. C. W. Daniel, of the First Baptist church, is in favor of the law, but he further complicates the situation by qualifying his advocacy with the proviso that the children whose parents object to the Scripture readings be excused while they are in progress. If that radical division holds in one denomination in the city of Atlanta, is it not probable it will manifest itself even more broadly in the Baptist denomination throughout the state? Dr. L. O. Bricker, of the First Christian church, is a proponent of the bill. But Dr. Dunbar Ogden, of the Central Presbyterian church, while approving the principle, would apply the same amendment as that favored by Dr. Daniel, of the First Baptist church. Dr. H. M. DuBose, of the First Methodist church, and Dr. A. R. Holderby, of the Moore Memorial church, spoke favorably to the bill. On the other hand, the Rev. Dr. C. B. Wilmer, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church, is on record against it.

A Cat-Fight.

Now, here we have on a small scale, the differences and dissensions that spring up like weeds whenever there is the slightest suggestion of the trenching of state upon church, or vice versa. If the preachers are thus divided, is it not logical to assume that the teachers will be even more so? And if both these vital elements are hopelessly in disagreement, what about the parents themselves?

Are we not paving the way to an ecclesiastical cat-fight in Georgia? Are we not encouraging such religious criminations and recriminations, and disputes about religion are the bitterest of all, as will stir up ugly and unreligious sentiments and animosities? Are we not practically inviting strife that will not only nullify the intent of the bill, but prove positively vicious by lighting bigotry and intolerance that may set back the churches fifty years in this state? For next to his home there is one thing you cannot invade, and that is a man's religion. And if this ill-advised resolution does not aim at that, what does it do?

Burglars Preaching Honesty.

That is one phase of the situation. Another, and to my mind, the more incongruous, is the spectacle, to use a strong analogy, of preaching honesty, while being dishonest to one's own employees. The parallel is inescapable. If the legislature passes this bill, what is the effect? It sets itself up as the scrupulous spiritual guardian of the public schools of the state. It says to the country school teachers, in substance: "The Bible is the synonym, in all denominations and creeds, of honesty, fairness, the square deal. It matters not whether you believe in this denomination or that, you agree with these eternal fundamentals. We are solicitous that you be well grounded in them. We therefore, decree by right of the power vested in us, that preachments upon honesty, fairness and the square deal shall be preached by you, with the state's imprimatur, daily to the children of the state."

One of the most important of the commandments, one of the inalienable tenets even of the heathen creeds is:

"Thou shalt not steal."

For forty-four years, or since the establishment of her school system, the state of Georgia has been in the attitude of stealing from her country school teachers. The crime of the state has been progressive. It has now reached the point where the state works these consecrated women in the country schools of Georgia ten months to a year without giving them a penny of their very small salaries. How does that chime with honor, with fairness, with square dealing—with the Bible? How does that harmonize with the principles thundered in the Sermon on the Mount or permanently embodied in the tables of stone that Moses brought down from Sinai?

What license has any Georgia legislature to dictate righteousness to the schools of Georgia, so long as it fails to retrieve this fundamental wrong which it only can correct? What a splendid example will it set to the children of hypocrisy when it says to them: "We will force fundamental morality on you," as long as that blazing indictment:

stands emblazoned against the state of Georgia!

That is not all. Our present tax system makes liars and perjurers of men. It robs and impoverishes the state's institutions. Unchecked, it will eventually drag the state's credit in the mire, whence it has already been preceded by its reputation for fair dealing.

Georgia stands charged and must plead guilty to these deliberate violations of the basic principles of all creeds and religions. The mixture of church and state is sufficiently indefensible. Worse and more shameful is the hypocrisy to which the legislature is invited. Let it purge the state's tarnished reputation, let it do long-delayed justice to the country school teacher, let i cease encouraging perjury and stiultification among its people before courting th role of political evangelist.

N. K. WILLISTON.

"DIGGING UP MORE SNAKES THAN EVER YOU CAN KILL

—Rev. H. R. Bernard

Editor Constitution: The movement to make religious instruction in the public schools compulsory is not a good omen. It is not American. It is not democratic. It is a matter of surprise that such a bill or any other similar to it could be drawn and offered in conservative Georgia. I am decidedly opposed to any bill looking to the state to enforce any religious views or work as such upon the people.

Understand, now, that motives are considered thoroughly good. The sentiment and purpose of the bill are to be applauded. The Bible ought to be read by everybody, everywhere, at all times. The Book is beyond all price. Wherever the Bible has gone, wherever it has been believingly read and accepted, it has wrought marvelous changes for good. Our heart's desire is that its study and acceptance may become speedily universal. Now all of this, and more like it, is not in debate at all. That the Bible is a great Book; that it is worthy of a place in every home and in every institution of the land, is not to be questioned. This is not the question. I was a school teacher eight years in my life and read every day a portion of God's Word and offered, as best I could, a suitable prayer. I had in my home during all the days of the childhood of my offspring the "family altar." Today I am inexpressibly glad of this.

God ordained human government. God ordained the church. Their functions are not the same. They are entirely and clearly distinct.

The attitude of the state to the church is to leave the church alone, as to its faith and its work. Let it, the church, enjoy what God has given it, that is, the opportunity to teach and to bring, by way of persuasion, all men to know God, whom to know is life eternal.

The new Testament scriptures teem with illustrations furnished by Christ and the Apostles of total and complete separation of church and state. Look and see.

In this connection I lay down three principles:

Principle 1. No man or company of men have the right to dictate to any other man what he shall worship or how he shall worship, or whether he shall worship at all; provided, he does not interfere with the rights of others.

Principle 2. All believers in Christ are equal in their rights and personal responsibilities.

Principle 3. No Christian has the right to assume authority over any other Christian or claim to be his priest.

Now, if all the people were willing read the Bible and were reading the Bibl and we just had one Bible, and if all we agreed as to the correctness of its transla tion and as to the correctness of its inte pretation, there would be no necessity of bill, or a law, or any other deliverance the subject, but we are not all agreed.

I do not believe in such a bill. I not believe in any religious legislation, matter how remote it is, nor how fratern it may seem, nor how wise it may appea

Now, while all of this matter is up, think I might as well go on and give y my views about proclamations of thank giving which have been issued for ma years by our presidents and governors. look with anything but approval of the suggestions and advice coming down fr state officials, with the seal of the state them, that all the people may do some ligious, pious thing at one time. Presider and governors can be engaged to better pu pose than to be taking "in charge" the ligious conduct, officially, of all the peop even though it be only by way of su gestion.

As for myself, I demand a fair char in the state and in the church. I dema just as much for the other fellow. I mand as much for him, though I may thi he is at sea on every point in his theolo

"But," says another, "the country is ing to destruction and it must be beca we have no law to compel teachers to r the Bible in the public schools." All this and more like it, is easily said. I not believe it. Things are not as well w us as they might be, but so far as that concerned, they will not be, after the is a law and the children have read Bible until they are gray-headed.

I will say for the sake of the argum that the country is being ruined and del erance ought to come. Very well, let come in God's time and in God's way. can afford to wait for God, in His way time to bring things to pass.

God rules in His kingdom or provide and in His kingdom of grace. He never c tradicts Himself. He is never in a hu and He is never behind time. He is tak care of all of our problems and He is going to fail.

This bill may be passed and it may come a law. When it does, you will f that you have dug up more snakes than will ever be able to kill.

WOULD REPEAT IN GEORGIA FRANCE'S RELIGIOUS WA

—Rev. J. D. Wincheste

Editor Constitution: Have the men who are calling to their aid the civil powers of the great state of Georgia to force the reading of the Bible in the public schools read the history of France in relation to the subject of "Religious Liberty?" Surely not.

Have they studied, analyzed and do they understand the rights of conscience in religion? Have the Baptists, in the flush of world-wide victory in a conflict that has been pre-eminently theirs for past centuries, forgotten the issues of the bloody struggle?

As for me, the Bible is the greatest and best Book in the world. I believe it is the inspired Word of God, from lid to lid, and that it is the only complete rule of religious faith and practice. I would, therefore, that all men, everywhere so accept, believe and conform their lives to its teachings. I would have it read and studied in every home, in every school, everyw However, I dare not call to my aid in accomplishment of this desire the po of civil government. Such a move i violation of the teachings of the Book it It is in violation of the principles and t tions of the denomination to which I long. It is in violation of the princ of the constitution of the government, u which I live. It is dangerous to both ch and state. It is persecution.

Therefore, Mr. Editor, I as one hu citizen, wish to register my protest ag the passage of the bill now pending in Georgia legislature requiring the readin the Bible in the public schools. Respect

GENERAL EVANS GOES TO MISSISSIPPI CAMP

Corrects Interview to Effect That He Made Statement About Relations With Mexico.

Brigadier General R. K. Evans left yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock for Biloxi, Miss., where, accompanied by his wife, he goes to attend the annual encampment of the state militia of Mississippi. This year's encampment is to be held at Camp Evans, at Biloxi, named in honor of General Evans, who, by the way, is a native Mississippian.

Before leaving yesterday General Evans called by The Constitution to say that the interview attributed to him in the local columns of yesterday's Constitution was based entirely upon a misapprehension or a misunderstanding.

"The truth of the matter is," said he, "the only conversation I had was over the telephone, and I did not even know that I was talking to a reporter of The Constitution. I, of course, authorized no interview that in any way even indirectly made a statement of our government's attitude towards Mexico, or that in any way discussed any possible relations between this country and Mexico. Nothing could have been further from my intention.

"I hope The Constitution will make it plainly understood that I authorized no such interview and that I did not even know that a reporter had been discussing the Mexican situation with me."

Solitaire Diamond Engagement Rings

The solitaire diamond ring is the recognized emblem of betrothal when worn by a woman on the third finger of the left hand.

They are also quite popular in twin, triplet and cluster settings, and in combination with other precious stones.

The diamond is easily the most popular of precious stones. Its flashing brilliancy, extreme hardness, durability, and the fact that the demand is increasing faster than the output, make it the best kind of an nvestment.

For over 26 years we have specialized diamonds. Weights and grades are guaranteed. We sell them or cash or on easy terms. Selections sent prepaid anywhere for examination.

FITE MAKES ATTACK ON CITY OFFICIALS

Judge of Cherokee Circuit Says He Is Going to Keep on Fighting for the People.

Cartersville, Ga., July 21.—(Special.) The city government of Cartersville in general and C. M. Milam, chairman of the city school board and Mayor Young, specifically, were attacked here this morning by Judge A. W. Fite, of the Cherokee circuit, in addressing a meeting he had called. He accused them of nepotism in the conduct of the city affairs.

He also denounced certain of the daily newspapers of the state and their local representatives in bitter language, declaring some of their references to him to be "premeditated, willful, wicked and malicious falsehoods."

Judge Fite declared that the representatives of Bartow county in the legislature would be called upon to introduce a bill to increase the city school board from three to five members, saying that if they refused to do so he would still continue to fight for the people's interests.

Resolutions were passed indorsing Judge Fite's proposed bill to elect members of the school board by the people, against reducing the corporate limits of the city of Cartersville and to establish a recorder's court for the city.

SECOND REGIMENT DOWN TO HARD WORK

By E. H. Greene.

St. Simons Island, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—Military maneuvers were begun in earnest Saturday morning with guard mount at 9:30 o'clock. In the afternoon a large crowd of spectators witnessed dress parade. Saturday night the big dance was given by the regiment at the new St. Simons hotel pavilion, and everybody seemed to be bubbling over with happiness. The officers and soldier boys, amid the bevy of beautiful girls, forgot the day's work and fatigue produced thereby, and trotted as merrily as any fresh, carefree youngster on the floor. The music was furnished by the Second regiment band.

Sunday was the gala day in camp. Dress parade at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon, reviewed by Colonel Thomas and staff, and was witnessed by an unusually large number of spectators. Captain Franklin, of company G, was officer of the day.

This morning the soldier boys were given a very impressive touch of real warfare, they being lined up for skirmishing, immediately followed up by two hours of real hot work on the firing line.

There is practically no sickness among the men. The sanitary conditions of the camp are excellent, making the duties of the hospital care very light indeed.

The balance of the estate goes to the widow and son. Mrs. Weichselbaum and Joe Weichselbaum are appointed trustees.

LIGHT PLANT OPTION OPPOSED BY ASHLEY

But Once More Mayor Woodward's Veto Is Overridden by Council.

Cuncilman Claude L. Ashley made the statement before council yesterday afternoon that it is impossible for the city to generate 1,500 watts of electric current with 250 tons of garbage.

His statement was offered as a vigorous protest against the city entering into an option with the New York Destructor company for the installation of a 1,500 watt plant. He said that the city will do well to generate 800 watts, and suggested that the resolution authorizing the city to enter into the option be deferred until such time as it is proven that the plant is capable of doing all that the company has guaranteed it will do.

Over the protest of Councilman Ashley, council adopted the resolution despite the veto of the mayor. As it carries an appropriation of $5 to make the option legal and binding, separate action was taken. The aldermanic board will pass on the measure Thursday.

THEFT OF $22,000 CONFESSED BY BOY

Lake Charles, La., July 21.—A 17-year-old express wagon driver, Herschel Pierce, confessed today that he stole $22,000 in currency from the Wells-Fargo company last November, according to the police. He gained access to the company's money chest at the railroad station here by a key he had secretly obtained and after extricating the package of money, which was consigned to a bank, substituted a package containing only paper.

Pierce led officers to a chickenhouse at his home where they unearthed $6,975 in cash and $2,000 was found in the garage of Pierce's uncle, A. E. Amy, at Eunice, La. Amy was arrested Saturday and today confessed he was guilty of the charge of having received stolen money. The money found today and property of Amy's seized brings the amount recovered to about $14,000.

Pierce said, according to the police, that he had no assistance in the robbery either in the planning or the execution, but voluntarily divided with Amy. Pierce always has been highly respected here and his arrest Saturday caused surprise. He has continued working for the company and has shown no evidence of having suddenly come into possession of money.

Amy, on the other hand, has spent money lavishly for one in his former circumstances. This attracted attention of the officers who arrested him Saturday morning. Officers believe Amy spent most of the $8,000 still unaccounted for.

FOURTEEN HURT WHEN TRAIN LEAVES TRACK

Macon, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—The washing out of a culvert by the heavy rains 6 miles west of Shellman caused the derailment of Macon to Montgomery passenger train No. 12 about 10 o'clock Sunday night, causing the injury of fourteen people, none seriously. Though the engine, baggage car and two passenger coaches were derailed, none of the cars overturned. The passengers from the derailed train were transferred and arrived in Macon at 10 o'clock this morning. The track was opened for traffic late tonight.

The other four were negroes.

GIRLS ARE NOT SAVED BY INCREASED WAGES

Chicago, July 21.—Increased wages is not a panacea for moral difficulties of working women, according to Rev. William McAfee, district superintendent of the Rock River conference, who spoke today at the Desplaines Methodist camp meeting.

"Increase the wages of working women 100 per cent tomorrow and if the hearts of these young persons are set on finery, theaters, late suppers and automobiles, the increase of wages will avail nothing," said Dr. McAfee.

$200,000 FOR VANDERBILT FROM ANDREW CARNEGIE

Nashville, Tenn., July 21.—Chancellor J. H. Kirkland announced today that a check for $200,000 of Andrew Carnegie's million-dollar gift to the Vanderbilt university medical department had ben received. This sum is for the erection of laboratories. The interest on the remainder is being held by the Carnegie corporation for the benefit of the medical school. The announcement is made that so far as the present board of trust is concerned the episode of the bishops' veto of the Carnegie gift is at an end. The governing board of the medical school, appointed by the university board of trust, recently, will meet in October.

REQUISITION PAPERS ARE ASKED FOR LUMB

No Formal Action Has Been Taken by Governor in the Crawford Case.

The matter of securing requisition papers from Governor John M. Slaton for Fred Lumb, the New York barber, accused in a justice of the peace warrant of being an accessory before the fact in the alleged poisoning four years ago of Joshua B. Crawford, was taken up tentatively before the governor yesterday by Attorney J. S. James, but no formal action was taken.

Attorneys Burton Smith and Reuben R. Arnold, representing Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, the widow accused of being the principal in causing the death of her husband for his $250,000 estate, were present, and declared the criminal proceedings a cheap method of obstructing and influencing the civil litigation now in progress.

Attorney James did not state whether or not he would proceed at once in his efforts to have Lumb indicted on the charge, as in that case he could ordinarily secure extradition papers.

Attorney Lewis Thomas has been asked by Judge W. D. Ellis to act in the place of Solicitor Hugh Dorsey in the criminal proceedings, as the solicitor is disqualified because of connection his firm has had with the civil

He has not yet announced his decision.

SUFFRAGE MEETING WILL BE BIG EVENT

List of Speakers Embraces Men and Women in All Walks of Life.

Among the speakers will be Mrs. William Lawson Peel, Hon. R. H. Hardeman, Dr. A. M. Hughlett, Hon. H. H. Swift, J. L. Hope, Hon. W. L. Converse, Hon. Louis Wisdom, J. R. Smith, Mrs. W. H. Felton, Mrs. M. L. McLendon, Frank Rice, Mrs. Frances Whiteside, R A. Broyles, Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, E. R. Black, Miss Rosa Woodberry, J. J. Spalding, Hon. Samuel Lumpkin Olive, Leonard J. Grossman, Hon. Ernest Neal, Mrs. M. C. Hardin, Mrs. M. T. McWhorter and Mrs. S. E. Cunningham.

The much talked of open meeting for discussing both sides of the suffrace question will take place tonight in Taft hall, the program under the direction of a group of Atlanta's best known people, with Mrs. William Lawson Peel as leader and chairman of the meeting. The list above presents a group of the speakers, some of them being "deep died in the wool suffragists" in their sympathies, while others believe that the advent of woman's suffrage would bring dire disaster to humanity, to say nothing of its demoralizing influence upon politics and the sacred domain of the fireside.

The speakers have been selected for their positive views one way or the other on the subject, and Mrs. Peel has the amiable purpose in view of posting people on the subject rather than converting them one way or the other. The weather is warm and the oratory will be of a calm and instructive nature, rather than agitative, though eloquence and impassioned speech will not be barred.

Following in the wake of the most successful convention in the history of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, suffragists everywhere attach considerable importance to the meeting which they hold is strong evidence of the increasing popularity of woman's suffrage.

It will be timely for the telling of all the suffrage stories, including the one of the New England woman who said: "If there is anything the men can do by themselves let them do it; we women are busy enough as it is." It will be blissful occasion for the man who likes to be emotional about the place of the woman in the home (though she may have to earn her living outside of it) and those who like to idealize about feminism in general.

At 7:45 o'clock the meeting will be called to order in an initiative expression of harmony, when Dr. Percy J. Starnes, one of the foremost organists, will render a program of popular airs on the echo organ.

As Dr. Starnes is soon to leave the city and the organ has never been heard before on a strictly public occasion, this will be a great treat. The public is cordially invited and all are assured of an interesting evening.

Though Mrs. Peel may not take sides in the debate over which she will preside, her presence at a suffrage meeting has aroused the interest and enthusiasm of other prominent Atlantans and many society women will turn out for the meeting. The Daughters of the American Revolution will be on hand in full force, as Mrs. Peel is a dominant factor in the work of the Habersham chapter, under whose auspices the suffrage debate will be held.

MERCURY HALTS AT 83.

It Will Be Warmer, Too, However, Says Forecaster.

When the mercury started on its daily climb to the top of the tube yesterday, it found itself halted at the 83-degree mark, and all Atlanta rejoiced at the failure of the column to reach the nineties. The weather man says that the rains which fell heavily all around Atlanta Sunday and the clouds which concealed the sun on Monday were the principal factors in making the ascent difficult.

For today the weather officials proclaim a spell of sunshine, accompanied by slightly warmer weather than on the cloudy day previous.

No particular change is forecast, however, in temperature, and thermometers are expected to register today about the same temperatures as on Monday.

TURNER GETS AN AUTO.

Electrician Planning to Cut Down Car Fare.

R. C. Turner, Atlanta's city electrician, will soon be tooting about the city in a spic auto.

Council yesterday approved the resolution authorizing the committee on electrical affairs to spend $750 for a machine for the electrician's office. The purchase will be made immediately. Chairman Clarence Haverty declares that the work of the department can be made easier and the city richer by cutting down car fare.

The purchase of the machine is made possible by reason of the fact that the city will get a rebate on lights in the White Way.

EDITORS MEET TODAY IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

LaGrange Citizens Have Planned Many Entertainments in Honor of Visitors.

LaGrange, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—The Georgia Weekly Press association meets in its annual convention here tomorrow and already a number of the delegates have reached LaGrange. It is expected that the convention will be the biggest and most successful ever held by the association and elaborate plans have been made by the citizens of LaGrange for the entertainment of the delegates.

Besides the usual business sessions of the convention, there will be two barbecues, a banquet and an automobile ride from LaGrange to West Point, where the delegates will be entertained for several hours by the citizens of that place.

At the banquet Wednesday night Governor John M. Slaton will be the honor guest and will deliver the main address. Other state officials and prominent men will also be in attendance.

BIG DRAINAGE PROJECT IS PLANNED IN BANKS

Commerce, Ga., July 21.—(Special.) The farmers and land owners on Grove river near this place have taken the necessary initial legal steps to insure the formation of a drainage district in Banks county. The petition has already been placed with Ordinary Hill and at the court a few days ago the ordinary appointed reviewers as provided for in the Georgia drainage law.

A survey will be made and the report turned in to the ordinary. If the report is favorable, the drainage district will be constituted, and will result in reclaiming a thousand acres of fine fertile lands on Grove river. Much of this land will easily produce a hundred bushels of corn per acre, when restored to a state of cultivation.

PRESIDENT NOMINATED BY MERCER COMMITTEE

Macon, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—The special committee named to nominate a successor to Dr. S. Y. Jameson, as president of Mercer university, met here this afternoon and decided on the man who will be presented to the board of trustees for the head of the Baptist institution.

The committee, however, refused to give out the name of the nominee until they have received his acceptance. Judge J. G. McCall, of Quitman, is chairman of the committee.

EMORY WEEKLY TO RESUME PUBLICATION

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—The Emory Weekly, a newspaper published last year by the Emory student body, will resume publication this fall. The paper was forced to discontinue publication the past spring because of financial tangles. The staff chosen for the next year has several veterans at the game on it who should make a success of the paper.

Cranston Williams, son of Jim Williams, of The Greensboro Record-Herald, who will manage the paper, and Pat Patillo, who will hold down the editor-in-chief's job, are both newspaper men tried and true. The staff of the paper has decided that the publication will b used as an organ to spread information on the intercollege athletic question. During the past year 200 enthusiastic students were the only advocates the movement had. The paper will inform the alumni, the trustees and the conferences, just why the Emory boys want inter-collegiate sports.

The department in journalism in the college will assist the staff of the paper in "issuing their sheet. The staff for next year is Pat Patillo, editor-in-chief; Cranston Williams, managing editor; Joe Fagan and George Munroe, associate editors; C. H. Arnold, assistant business manager, and W. W. Weber, circulation manager.

"Sacred Harp" Convention.

The annual gathering of the Georgia society has been fixed for September 12-14 at the Auditorium here.

THE HURT BUILDING

The purchase of CENTRAL STATION ELECTRIC CURRENT for light and power for the magnificent new Hurt Building, at the intersection of Pryor Street and Edgewood Avenue, is probably the highest indorsement yet given this method of obtaining electricity.

The rates and service which Mr. Joel Hurt has secured for his building are the standard rates and identical service offered any individual or enterprise desiring electricity for power and lights under similar conditions. The contract is made to cover the requirements of the building now under erection. It contemplates that should the building be extended to double its present size the contract may be so adjusted as to meet the additional requirements at virtually the same cost at which the service could be furnished from an isolated plant. In short, a contract is made now with the hope that it will prove to the interests of the Atlanta Realty Corporation in its future building to continue to obtain its supply from the Georgia Railway & Power Company. If, after the expiration of two years, it should appear that the Atlanta Realty Corporation can produce its power from its own station at a saving worth considering, it would be at liberty to do so, and cancel the present contract.

Mr. Hurt, who built this latest monument to Atlanta's enterprise and progress, is well known as one of the greatest developers in the country. The Equitable Building and the superb Druid Hills residence section are his products; and it was he who conceived and built the first electric trolley lines in Atlanta, forerunners of the present street railway system.

Mr. Hurt is a trained engineer and is thoroughly familiar with the intricate details of the electrical business. Therefore, when he decided to buy Central Current for his masterpiece, the Hurt Building, after carefully investigating every other method of obtaining electricity, it was distinctly an expert indorsement of Central Station Current.

Rube Kissinger pined a shutout on the Crackers Monday, the fourth shutout against the locals this season.

Crackers Whitewashed--Marathon Race Tonight

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

WHIFFS

In Elect Class.

RUBE KISSINGER whitewashed the Crackers Monday, and in so doing accomplished what only two other twirlers have been able to do this season, Hogg, of Mobile, blanking the locals twice, and Beck, of Nashville, once. Kissinger's is the first shut-out defeat handed the locals away from home. "The handsomest man in baseball" was certainly "right" yesterday.

Nothing to It.

DESPITE reports that Detroit was going to trade Ty Cobb to Boston for Tris Speaker, President Jim McAlee, of the Red Sox, hotly denies it. The report is said to be well founded in as much as both men have soured on their present teams, but the Red Sox boss says no and says it emphatically. But he denied the Stahl release up until the very day he was canned. What can be expected under these circumstances?

Griff's Chances.

CLARK GRIFFITH'S Washington Americans are far from being out of the running for the American league pennant. Boehling and Johnson have won two-thirds of the games the team has copped. If Engel, Groom and Hughes could come through with consistent twirling the Senators would be as good a bet as any in the league. But Johnson and Boehling cannot be expected to win unaided.

His Offer.

WALTER JOHNSON has come out with an offer to twirl every other day after the first of September, in an effort to land the Senators in the van of the race. If they get right up there and Boehling makes the same kind of an offer, the men of Griffith are going to be extremely hard to head.

After Southpaws.

GRIFFITH is hunting for southpaws. As he sent Gil Price to the Crackers, the local southpaw may be called in by the Foxy one at the end of the Southern league season. Price should go good for the Griffithites. If he twirls the same brand of ball for them that he has for the Crackers, the chances of Griff's team will be better than ever in the last month of the race, when things tighten up.

Get Him Peeved.

WHEN Ban Johnson took a shot at Jim McAleer, president of the Boston Red Sox, for letting Manager Jake Stahl go in the manner in which he did, the Red Sox president waxed warm. "I'll run my team myself," said McAleer, "that's all I've got to say, now." But one could see that it was a sore topic with the Boston president by a glance at his face when he made the statement.

Fine Plastered.

JOE TINKER, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, has plastered a $100 fine on Rube Benton, the big southpaw of the team, for absenting himself from the team without permission. "And it will stick, too," said Tinker. "The day for that sort of stuff has passed on this ball club." Tinker is right. Had the Reds been ruled a little more strenuously in the past, good material would not have gone to waste as it has.

A New Star.

MARANVILLE, the midget shortstop of the Boston Braves, whom, we are free to admit, we "could not see," when he was here with the Braves this spring, has been the season's infield sensation in the big show. His work at the shortfield, on the bases and in the lead off position in the batting order has been one of the main factors in the wonderful improvement of the Braves. "Maranville is one of the smartest ball players in the game today" said Manager George Stallings recently. "He is one of the few players that a manager can send to bat without instructions. He pulls no bones." Looks like we missed this fellow. But he did not look like a ball player this spring. That's our alibi.

Gulls Strengthen.

MIKE FINN has purchased an outfielder by the name of Kelly from the Jersey City club. He reported to the Gulls yesterday. It is presumed that he will get in the game in McGill's place as Clark has been hitting the ball better of late and fielding in approved styles. Kelly is expected to bolste the Gulls immensely in their fight for the rag.

Recall Him.

DAVE BUNTING, formerly of New Orleans and later with Nashville, has been recalled by the Vols and will play out the season at the hot corner for the Schwartzmen. Baumgardner, the former Alabama boy, purchased from the Macon Sally league team, will fill utility roles.

Crackers' Daily Hitting.

Rube Kissinger Uses Brush; Price Wild and Hit Timely; Errors at Critical Periods

By Herbert Caldwell.

Memphis, Tenn., July 21.—(Special.) Rube Kissinger got off in front, backed down the home stretch nodding to the folks in the grandstand. Incidentally Memphis won a ball game from Atlanta today by the proportion of 5 counts to none.

It didn't take the Turtles long to bring things to an understanding. After two uneventful innings for the Crackers and one for the home side, the Turtles got busy, and it was some time before they ceased their activities.

The home crew turned their guns on Pitcher Price in the second frame, and before they changed their aim enough runs had been made to win any ordinary ball game.

Schweitzer opened the way with a single to left field. Abstein followed with a hot shot past Smith. Shanley dropped one down the third base line, and in Smith's hurry to hold Shanley off he heaved to the right field sideboard and Schweitzer and Abstein scampered across the tape.

Wally's Second Error.

Seabough was safe on Smith's error of a grounder. Kissinger sacrificed Seabough to second, and Shanley to third. Love followed with a single, scoring Shanley and sending Seabough to third.

At this juncture Conzelman, who had been unloosening his arm for about five minutes picked up the C. Q. D. signal and relieved Price.

Conzelman took up the job with three men on bases and one out. Baerwald rolled one to short, forcing Butler at second, but Seabough counted on the out. Love was later caught between home and third, and the eventful second came to an end.

One more run was made during the game, and Memphis made it in the seventh frame. With two out, Butler singled over short and went to third when Conzelman threw over Agler's head trying to catch him off first base. Butler later scored on Baerwald's out, Alpermann to Agler.

Baerwald Fields Well.

The visitors never had many chances to score—thanks to the two hands of Baerwald in right field. In the third inning the Crackers pushed a man to third, but he died there. Chapman singled, and was sacrificed to second. Agler popped to Seabough for the second out. Bisland singled, but Chapman stopped at first. Welchonce shot a liner to right, and Baerwald, who followed it, caught it after hard running.

In the fifth Atlanta had another excellent chance to score, but failed. Bailey, first up, was safe at second when Shanley muffed his high fly to center. Chapman followed by whiffing. Conzelman flew out to Baerwald, and Agler was an easy infield out.

In the sixth, with one out, Welchonce slammed out one that looked certain for two or three bases. It was a straight, hard drive, hardly 6 feet off the ground, but Shanley grabbed it after a sprint.

Conzelman pitched a good game after he took up the job. He allowed seven hits, but was tight when runs were in sight. Kissinger was hit hard, but he ball went straight into the hands of his team mates. Baerwald had six put-outs in right field.

Welchonce figured in a pretty double play when he made a running catch of a drive by Seabough in the fourth inning, and caught Shanley before he could get back to first base.

Chance's Complaint Will Not Receive Official Cognizance of League

Chicago, July 21.—No official action will be taken by the American league in connection with Frank Chance's complaint charging the Chicago Americans with misrepresenting the physical condition of Zeider and the playing ability of Borton, for whom Chance traded Hal Chase. Ban Johnson so announced today.

"It will be impossible to take action compensating New York for alleged loss," said Johnson, "for the reason that Chance wanted Zeider more than any other man. He had his choice of at least six Chicago players and picked Zeider and Borton."

Colored Teams Play.

In a very interesting game Armour defeated the fast Howell nine Saturday on Armour's grounds by the close score of 3 to 2. This makes the first defeat of Howell out of eight played. The features of the game were the pitching of C. L. Cox, of Howell, who struck out eleven men, and allowed only one hit, the fielding of I. Took, of Armour, and the catching of J. C. Spears, of Howell. Ragged fielding in the ninth inning caused Howell to lose the game.

The boat had settled very low before she reached the mainland after an exciting 2-mile race.

The Tremper was run aground in the mud near Staatsburg. All the passengers were taken off without difficulty. The steamer rests on the bottom in a safe position.

MILK POISON KILLING PEOPLE IN TENNESSEE

Hartsville, Tenn., July 21.—Elliott Cook, a prominent citizen of the Green Grove community, about 7 miles northeast of Hartsville, died of milk poison this morning at 5:30 o'clock. His wife also is afflicted with the same sickness, and not expected to live. Mr. Cook was 34 years old, and leaves a wife and one child.

In this same community and nearby at different intervals this mysterious disease has appeared. The fatalities have been four persons of a Love family and a child living with them; also two in the family of a Mr. Cox, and Jesse Tally and wife. A few years ago the government had experts to visit the scene, and if possible find the cause. In spite of all investigations the fatal poison exists, and seems to be unexplainable.

Ten Riders Will Circle Track In Marathon Race Tonight; $500 Cash Prize for Winner

The Atlanta Motordrome management will present to local speed fans something new, novel and exciting as their banner event in tonight's program.

A Marathon, with all ten riders on the track at one time, will be the star event. This is the first time in the history of motorcycle board track racing that such an event has been attempted and it is made doubly hazardous by reason of the size of the track, which is four laps to the mile.

The exact Marathon distance is 26 miles 385 yards. The riders will have to ride 60 yards further than this to come as close to the Marathon distance as they can on the local track. To be exact, they will ride 105 laps or 26 miles and 1 lap.

$500 to Winner.

The winner of this race will receive a cash prize of $500 and this should be sufficient spur for the men to ride their fastest throughout the entire race. The slow fellows will have just as good a chance to cop as he man with the fastest machine. The machine with the most lasting powers will be the one home in front.

To pull off this race the local Motordrome management has gone to considerable expense, but they believe they will be rewarded by the big crowd that will be on hand to see ten men defy death on a quarter mile track at one time.

Each rider will have to have three assistants, two men at the pits to assist them with any mechanical trouble that may spring up and a third man in the press stand to attend to his scoring and see that he gets everything that is coming to him there.

Every Trick in Game.

There will be every known trick of the motorcycle racing game pulled in this race. There is likely to be several spills before the 105 laps have been covered. Five hundred dollars is a lot of money for less than an hour's work and full speed ahead will be the order from start to finish. The riders will take more chances than they would otherwise.

But while this is going to be the feature race of the evening and the one in which the majority of interest will center there will be the usual sweepstakes, three heats and a final and a special match race, between the two Harrys, Glenn and Schwartz.

Program.

Here is the complete program:

Tex Richards against time. One mile. Present record, held by Eddie Hasha and Morty Graves. Time, :38 4-5.

One mile to qualify for two-mile final. Two to qualify in each heat and three in fastest heat.

First Heat—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards.

Second Heat—No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, George Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

Harry Glenn v. Harry Schwartz. (Special match race.) Two miles, best two out of three heats.

Final Heat of Motordrome Sweepstakes—Two miles.

Second Heat of Special Match Race—Glenn v. Schwartz.

Third Heat of Special Match Race, if necessary.

Big Marathon Race—(26 miles 385 yards), ten riders to compete. Each rider will have to ride 105 times around the track. Winner to receive cash prize of $500.

Contestants—No. 1, Morty Graves; No. 2, Harry Schwartz; No. 3, Billy Shields; No. 4, George Lockner; No. 5, Tex Richards; No. 6, Freddie Luther; No. 7, George Renel; No. 8, Jock McNeil; No. 9, Henry Lewis; No. 10, Harry Glenn.

BOMB IS DELIVERED AT CARNEGIE OFFICES

A report that the package was addressed to Andrew Carnegie could not be verified tonight through the police. Mr. Carnegie is abroad.

The box was turned over to Inspector Egan, the police expert on explosives, and will be examined tomorrow. It was said it might contain nitro-glycerine. The box is four inches wide and ten inches in length.

The liquid apparently was poured through openings, which later were soldered at either end of the box. D. H. Clark, an employee, who received the box, became suspicious when he found no other writing on it than the address and called in the police.

The Carnegie corporation was created by the state legislature to control some $25,000,000 in United States Steel corporation bonds, the income of which is used to promote education. United Saes Senaor Elihu Roo is a member of he controlling committee.

HOT CHARGES MADE IN KENT HEARING

Disbarred Lawyer Appears Before Senate Committee and Asks That His Disabilities Be Removed.

The bill of Senator Fred Kea, of the sixteenth district, removing the disabilities of William B. Kent, who was disbarred in 1910 on twenty-one counts of unprofessional and wilful misconduct, was heard before the general judiciary committee of the senate yesterday afternoon and action upon the measure was deferred until a later meeting of the committee.

The hearing was sensational from start to finish and replete with vicious charges and counter charges from the advocates and opponents of the measure.

Eschol Graham, a lawyer of McRae, presented a petition from the bar association of the Oconee circut requesting that the general assembly refuse to grant the reinstatement to the bar of Georgia. Among the charges brought against Kent are those of defrauding clients, altering court records, abstracting and concealing court papers, procuring and using false affidavits in trial of cases and false swearing.

Did Beer Have Influence?

Mr. Kent, in defending himself before the committee, stated that the petition requesting the legislature not to reinstate him was drawn up by the bar association at a barbecue and that at the barbecue two kegs of beer, equaling 250 bottles, were served to the lawyers, and that while he did not charge them with being drunk, he did think that this beverage had something to do with their action.

On the other hand, Mr. Graham asserted that the resolution was adopted at the courthouse prior to the holding of the barbecue. "Since his disbarment in 1910," said Mr. Graham, "he has practiced law constantly, directly and indirectly, and what's more, he hasn't quit yet, and I can prove it."

"That's a lie," stated Kent, "I haven't practiced law since my disbarment in 1910. After my disbarment in 1910 I was elected to the legislature over two opponents and I hold the position of ordinary today. To show the esteem the citizens of my county have for me I have a petition in my hand with the names of 2,500 citizens attached to it asking for my reinstatement.

Asked Change of Name.

"The county in which I live, Wheeler, was requested to be named Kent in honor of my father, but when the bill passed through the house under the name and someone charged me with trying to obtain personal fame through the measure it was I who asked that the name of the county be changed.

"Gentlemen, I am going to be judge just as sure as I live and that man Graham would give his birthright for the job which I am going to get and for that reason he is trying to get me out of the way. To show you my strength in my county I got a letter from C. P. Thomson in which it says that W. L. Wilson, a candidate for the legislature next session, would see to it that I was reinstated to the bar if I would lend him the Kent influence in the next election."

Mr. Graham asserted that he is practicing law, has already refused to run for judge and that he does not expect to run. L. C. Underwood, of Mount Vernon, stated that C. P. Thomson, the man who wrote Kent the letter, was Kent's law partner.

Senator Kea, of Alamo, stated it has now ceased to be a prosecution, but is now a persecution. "These lawyers here today have been on Kent's trail for five years and not for the good of society, but merely for the persecution and political murder of Kent."

The garnishment bill was also heard before the committee and action was deferred. This law provides for the garnisheeing of any man's wages down as low as $30 a month and 50 per cent above that amount. The present law does not allow garnishment of a man's wages whose work is more manual than mental. Representatives of the Retail Grocers' association spoke favorably on the bill.

The homicide bill of Senator Tarver came up in the senate Monday, but after much filibustering the bill was set as a special order for today.

Bills passed in the senate Monday:

By Paulk of Ben Hill—To amend an act prescribing the duties of the commissioners of roads and revenues of Hill county.

By Berry of Whitfield—To amend the charter of Tunnel Hill.

Bills introduced in senate Monday:

By Searcy of the Twenty-sixth—To allow sheriffs and deputies to carry colored prisoners in cars provided for whites.

MOTORCYCLIST INJURED.

Dave Rudisall's Machine Collides With Auto.

Dave Rudisall, of College Park, broke his leg last night when, riding a motorcycle, he collided with an automobile on the East Point road, near Fort McPherson. The machine, which was driven by Harry Manning, of East Point, was not damaged, and aMnning and two other men in the car received no injuries.

Manning picked the motorcyclist up and carried him to Grady hospital and then reported the accident at county police headquarters. The explanation given for the collision was that the lights on the automobile suddenly went out just as Rudisall was approaching.

MUNICIPAL COURT BILL INTRODUCED IN HOUSE

Measure Is Designed to End the Justice Court System in Atlanta.

A bill designed to put into effect the amendment ratified October 2, 1912, the purpose of which was to abolish the justice of peace courts of Atlanta and establish a municipad court, was introduced in the house Monday by the Fulton and DeKalb county delegations. So far no opposition has developed, and it is believed that it will be passed.

In lieu of the justice of peace courts, this bill will give the city a municipal court with one chief judge and four associates. The measure has the indorsement of the bar association and many of the leading lawyers and business men of the city.

FISH DIE BY HUNDREDS IN SOUTH GA. STREAM

Americus, Ga., July 21.—(Special.)—Immediate official notice will be given State Game Warden Jess E. Mercer by County Warden William McMath, of the wholesale destruction of fish in Mucalee creek, below Americus, where shoals of dead fish are floating upon the surface for many miles.

The destruction, it is believed, results from seepage from one of the fertlizer or acid plants here, several of which empty into the Muckalee.

Warden McMath made an inspection for several miles downstream, and reported this afternoon the finding of hundreds of dead fish, terrapins and turtles. Unless a remedy is applied greater destruction may result.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

All the News of Real Estate and Building.

The chamber of commerce committee having in charge the establishing of a permanent manufacturers' exhibit for Atlanta-made goods met in the chamber Monday morning and requested the board of directors of the chamber to make them a price on the four upper floors of the new chamber building, at the southeast corner of north Pryor and Auburn avenue.

After hearing the desire of this committee President Moore, of the chamber, called a special meeting of the board to confer this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the chamber rooms.

There is still a possibility that the committee, of which Brooks Morgan is chairman, will accept one of the many other offers which have been made them.

Among the proposals was that of J. R. Smith, who has offered to erect a six-story building at the corner of Walton and Bartow streets at an approximate cost of $100,000.

An attractive offer made the committee on permanent exhibits of the Atlanta chamber of commerce is that of L. O. Turner, Atlanta's well-known realty dealer, on a lot on Pryor street. The lot in question is 95 feet south of Mitchell street on the west side of Pryor, 105x185 feet. Mr. Turner is willing to dispose of this property for a client for $80,000 on terms to suit the chamber of commerce. This offer will be given due consideration by the committee.

Sale of Market Site.

City of Raleigh, N. C.

The City of Raleigh, N. C., will receive sealed bids, addressed to its Mayor, up to Monday, the 11th day of August, 1913, at 12 o'clock m., for the sale of the Market House and site, located in the heart of the business section of the city, surrounded by four streets, Fayetteville, the principal business street, on the west; Wilmington, the principal wholesale street, on the east, and two fifty-foot streets on the north and south. This property faces 54 feet on Fayetteville street and runs back 210 feet to Wilmington street.

Just across the street is situated the Merchants' National Bank. Just to the south, within one hundred feet, the new thirteen-story building of the Citizens' National Bank, and within one hundred and fifty feet, on Wilmington street, the new twelve-story building of the Commercial National Bank, these two last mentioned buildings cost upwards of $600,000. Within three hundred feet are situated three other banks, one of which has just been completed at a cost of about $150,000; the Masonic Temple, the largest retail hardware, dry goods, gents' furnishing and drug stores and the postoffice building, now being remodeled at a cost of $260,000. Within four hundred feet are the two largest hotels, the plans have been drawn for the erection of a new courthouse to cost $250,000, within this distance. It is an ideal site for any store, hotel or office building.

Raleigh has made more progress in the past four years than any other city in North Carolina. It has 25,000 inhabitants, is situated in a magnificent farming country and has, within a radius of seventy-five miles, over 800,000 people; it has three railway systems and the largest hydro-electric distributing station in the state of North Carolina.

Raleigh is the educational center of the state and during the nine months of each year more than twenty-five hundred students from a distance are in attendance upon its colleges and universities.

This is positively the best real estate proposition in the state of North Carolina. Sale is authorized by special act of legislature and title is perfect. No bid of less than eighty thousand dollars will be considered, and the purchaser must agree to erect a building to cost not less than one hundred thousand dollars, the city reserving the right to reject all bids.

Terms: One-third cash, balance in one and two years. Delivery of building not later than May 1, 1914, under the act of legislature; no interest will be charged upon unpaid portion of purchase price until delivery; city will receive rents until delivery; certified check for $5,000 must accompany each bid to show good faith. For further information address James I. Johnson, Mayor, City of Raleigh. Blue prints showing whole situation sent on application.

FLAMING WOMAN RIDES ON WILD MOTORCYCLE

Fire Chief Comes to Mrs. Daum's Rescue but She Is Fatally Burned.

St. Louis, July 21.—After seeing two girls escape incineration on the same machine, Mrs. Minnie Daum mounted the motorcycle of Julius Schneider, of Edwardsville, Ill., and was probably burned fatally today when her skirt took fire from the cycle's engine.

Excited by the third accident of its kind within an hour, Schneider lost control of the machine. Through the main streets of the city it sped, the woman in flames on the rear seat shrieking in terror. At the bottom of a hill Schneider ran the machine against a terrace and attempted in vain to beat out the flames.

C. W. Fiegebaum, chief of the fire department, came to the woman's rescue with a chemical tank. Every inch of her body below the waist, however, was seared by the flames. Her recovery is doubtful. Schneider was exhibiting his machine to a party of girls and invited them to ride. The skirts of the two who preceded Mrs. Daum took fire, but the blaze was speedily extinguished each time.

of robbery, a muffled scream came from the rear. Investigation led them to the ice box. Davis was first to open it. The semi-conscious form of the youth rolled out, half-frozen and stiff from cramps. He had to be carried across the street to his home.

Sends Call for Police.

Mrs. Gober, who had seen Harper and Garner grab Miller, the lookout, was fearful of the safety of the five sleuths. She telephoned police station for help, telling that safe-blowers had been caught in her husband's store. Night Chief Jett and eight policemen rushed to the scene in the automobile of Police Commissioner Garner, who happened to be at headquarters. They met the detectives leading their prisoners at the corner of Powell and Carroll streets.

The two men were reticent at headquarters and would not talk to reporters or detectives. The result of the third degree, however, has not yet been made known. They will be tried in the recorder's court probably this afternoon.

The police learned of the plot to blow the safe by overhearing a conversation between two of the alleged safe crackers.

VATICAN GUARDSMEN IN STATE OF MUTINY

They Present Conditions on Which They Will Remain in Service of Pope.

Rome, July 21.—Mutinous Swiss guardsmen at the vatican today presented to Cardinal Merry del Val, papal secretary of state, a memorial relating their grievances and the conditions on which they are disposed to remain in the service. The conditions are:

"1. The dismissal of the commander of the Swiss guards.

"2. An increase in the Swiss guards from 80 to 100.

"3. The commander and all officers to be chosen from among themselves.

"4. The abolition of the prohibition against the guards frequenting stores on the right bank of the Tiber and the granting of permission to frequent wine shops.

"5. A return to the original system of military instruction with the abolition of bayonet drill, target shooting and the climbing of roofs to protect the vatican from imaginary assaults.

"6. No punishments to be inflicted in connection with the present agitation."

Cardinal Merry del Val afterward conferred for a long time with the pope in an endeavor to find a satisfactory solution of the incident.

The Swiss guard at the vatican has existed since 1505, when it was formed by Pope Julius II. The men are recruited from the Swiss cantons of Zurich and Lucerne and they enlist for a term of five years. They must be at least 6 feet in height and all of them belong to families in which it has become an hereditary custom to serve at the vatican.

Because of fears of graver insubordination the Swiss guards have been disarmed. The Italian police are ready to intervene in case of disturbances should the vatican authorities request their assistance in the re-establishment of order.

WITH HALF A SHAVE CLARKE FACES SENATE

Washington, July 21.—Senator Clarke, president pro tem. of the senate, faced that august body today with half a shave.

Vice President Marshall was out of town and as the bells were tinkling the call for assembly, Senator Clarke, comfortably stretched out in a chair in the barbershop, was warned by pages dashing about, that the senate was without a presiding officer. The senator hurriedly wiped the lather from his face and bolted for the chamber.

The republican side saw him clean shaven; the democrats viewed a day's whiskers.

GIRL TELLS OF VISITS TO HOTEL WITH DOCTOR

Dr. M. W. Lewis, of Carrollton, Bound Over and Miss McColman Held for Parents.

Miss Effie McColman, daughter of a planter of Carrollton, was arraigned before Recorder Broyles Monday afternoon to tell the story of her association with Dr. M. W. Lewis, her family physician, who, she stated, had come to Atlanta with her three times, registered at hotels as man and wife. The physician, who is said to be one of Carrollton's most successful practitioners, was bound over to higher courts under bond of $1,000. He denied immoral relations with the girl, declaring that he had registered as husband and wife solely to protect the girl.

Arrest Waits Operation.

Dr. Lewis' arrest was probably one of the most sensational in recent police record. While he operated on a patient in a local sanitarium Monday morning Detective Bob Waggoner, detailed from police headquarters, awaited on the outside, fearing to arrest the surgeon until the operation had been finished so that it might be successful.

While the detective awaited outside the hospital Captain Lamar Poole had found Miss McColman in a room at the Scoville hotel on Mitchell street. At first she denied their relations, but finally made complete admission.

She was carried to headquarters and put under charge of Matron Bohnefeld. The physician was arrested as soon as he had finished the operation. The case resulted from the visit of a Carrollton resident to headquarters, who, upon seeing the girl and doctor come into Atlanta together, grew suspicious and advised the police to investigate.

Three Visits to Atlanta.

At 2:30 o'clock the couple were arraigned before Judge Broyles. With drooping head the girl admitted all she had told Captain Poole—two previous visits to Atlanta, during which they had registered as man and wife at the Childs' hotel, and the third disastrous trip when they had stopped at the Scoville.

Dr. Lewis testified that he had brought Miss McColman to Atlanta for the purpose of taking her to an expert dentist and that he had registered her at the Scoville only as a means of protection.

"You have a distorted sense of protection," said the recorder. "You should be dealt with as severely as the courts will permit."

Father Reaches City.

James McColman, the father of the girl, reached Atlanta last night to take charge of his daughter. He declared that Dr. Lewis had been the family physician for years, and that for this reason he had been willing for his daughter to come to Atlanta with him when she wanted to have some dentist work done.

"He is a menace to society," declared Mr. McColman "and I intend to prosecute him in the courts."

BOARD OF MEDIATION BEGINS ITS LABORS

New York, July 21.—The first day of conferences between the federal mediation board and the two parties to the controversy involving a threatened strike of 80,000 trainmen and conductors against the eastern railroads closed with the official announcement tonight that there was no change in the situation.

Judge William L. Chambers, chairman of the conciliation body appointed by the president, said the mediators were "more hopeful," however. While both the men and the roads informed the boards of their purpose to "stand pat" on the platform of grievances they want submitted for arbitration under the Newlands act, the mediators say they believe that within a few days the roads may be induced to consent to have only the employees' wage demand arbitrated.

Under this plan the roads' grievances would be arbitrated later, after the men have been given formal notice of thirty days. Both the mediators and the trainmen appear to see in this the only way of averting a strike.

MISSISSIPPI TO ATTACK MERGER OF RAILROADS

Jackson, Miss., July 21.—Attorney General Ross A. Collins announced today that he will file in Coahoma county tomorrow a suit against the Illinois Central and Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroads, alleging an unlawful merger, and asking penalties approximating $75,000,000.

The attorney general states the suit will be file din the chancery court and will be vigorously prosecuted. It was known he had intended this action for some time and has worked up much evidence.

Alleging infractions of the anti-trust laws of Mississippi, the attorney general's suit seeks to oust the Illinois Central from that state, would forfeit the charter and franchise of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad and throw both into the hands of receivers. The suit would also cause the Illinois Central to dispose of all stocks and bonds of the subsidiary road and an absolute divorcements of interests.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HONOR PATRICK BOLAND

The Knights of Columbus last night attended the short funeral services of Patrick J. Boland at the undertaking establishment of P. J. Bloomfield. Father McGrath officiated. Mr. Boland was a member of the Catholic fraternity at his old home in Lynn, Mass., where his family is now living, and as a last mark of respect H. T. Hayes, representing the Atlanta Council, will accompany the body on the trip to that city, where the interment will take place. Mr. Boland died in Atlanta Sunday as a result of the heat.

THOMPSON AND DAVIS WILL BE CONFIRMED

Washington, July 21.—(Special.)—The nomination of Howard Thompson as marshal for the northern district and Joseph S. Davis as marshal for the southern district of Georgia were favorably reported to the senate today from the judiciary committee. They will be confirmed tomorrow.

MUTINOUS CHINESE TERRORIZE SHIP

Several Persons Wounded on the Comus—Woman Saves Officer Proctor From the Infuriated Chinese.

New Orleans, July 21.—Mutiny of 26 Chinese on the steamship Comus arriving today from New York resulted in a panic among the passengers, the probable fatal shooting of one of the mutineers, the wounding of three others and slight injuries to First Officer M. L. Proctor, of the Comus. The general fight occurred on the forward deck of the steamer today.

Proctor probably owes his life to the bravery of Mrs. Florence Shaw, a stewardess, who saved him from being thrown overboard by the infuriated Chinese. The officers ordered all the Chinese to the hold when the vessel was about 40 miles down the river. The Orientals protested it was too hot down there.

Proctor insisted and two of them had rushed him to the rail when Mrs. Shaw appeared. She battled her way among the Chinese and prevented them from throwing Proctor over the rail. Proctor then drew his weapon, fired and the fight began.

Other members of the crew and several volunteer passengers rushed to the melee amid screams of the women passengers terrified at the pistol shooting and free use of clubs. Finally the Orientals were cowed by superior force and weapons and were sent to the hold. The most seriously injured man is shot through the lungs and it is said he will die.

The Chinese were being brought here to act as strike-breakers for the United States Fruit company, whose seamen walked out some time ago. Each is under $500 bond. Fearing some might try to escape as the Comus was coming up the river, the Chinese were ordered to the hold.

When the boat docked the Orientals were ordered to come back on deck one at a time. With drawn weapons police, who had been notified by wireless, took the men in charge. All except the wounded were taken to the fruit company's station and disposition of them has not yet been decided.

SHUTDOWN PROPOSED BY NAVAL STORES MEN

Plants Over Larger Portion of the Belt May Be Closed for Thirty Days.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 21.—A plan of retrenchment in the production of naval stores products which may mean the closing for thirty days or more of the larger portion of the plants over the producing belt on August 15, owing to poor market conditions, was talked over through a mass meeting which lasted all of today at the rooms of the board of trade, when between 200 and 300 operators met here.

As a final solution to the problem it was decided to draft a circular letter to more than 1,200 operators, asking them to meet in Savannah, Ga., Pensacola, Fla., and New Orleans, La., August 5, and render their decision in the matter of retrenchment, or closing down their plants August 15 for an indefinite period. The meetings in the three cities will be asked to go on record as favoring a closing down of all plants and send committees back to Jacksonville for another meeting August 8.

Before the close of the meeting this afternoon the body was resolved into a committee of the whole, a general discussion repeated on what had been done in the morning and a decision made to gather the names of all operators present to be fixed to the circular letters.

The meeting here was attended by operators from all over the naval stores belt. The meeting was presided over by J. S. Slingler, of Ashburn, Ga., R. M Sasnett, of Jacksonville, as secretary.

J. S. Slingler, T J. Shore and J. B. Way were appointed as the committee to have charge of the meeting in Savannah. A. Sassons, T. M. McConnell, Dr. E. P. Rose and C. M. Munson, the Pensacola meeting; S. A. Alford, J. B. Newton and J. S. Boyd, the one at New Orleans.

LOSS OF $108,000,000 TO THE COTTON GROWERS

Boll Weevil Barrier Would Cost Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Tennessee That Sum Yearly.

Washington, July 21.—Federal experts estimate that a loss of almost $108,000,000 a year to cotton growers in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Florida would result from the adoption of the plan proposed recently by Senator Smith, of South Carolina, which contemplated the establishment of a belt in which the growth of cotton should be prohibited by law, in an effort to keep the cotton boll weevil from spreading eastward into the Atlantic coast states.

This conclusion has been reached by the department of agriculture, based on provision for the elimination of a strip about 100 miles wide down through Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and Florida. No figupres were prepared to show how this loss of $108,000,000 annually might be offset, either in part or in full, by the raising of other crops.

COOLER WEATHER LOWERED COTTON

Breaking of Hot Spell Caused Decline of 5 to 12 Points in Futures—Selling in the Last Hour Caused Loss.

New York, July 21.—With a sudden drop in temperatures over the entire cotton belt on Sunday and heavy showers in parts of the south Atlantic states, the cotton market developed moderate heaviness today and closed steady at a net decline of 5 to 12 points.

The opening, which was steady and 7 to 11 points lower, reflected, in some degree, the weakness at Liverpool, which at the hour of the local opening was about 5 to 6 points lower than due, having been influenced by the disappearance of high temperatures over the belt. Offerings were quite liberal and included a good deal of the cotton bought by local traders at the close of last week on the hot weather scare. These were fairly well absorbed, however, and as there seemed to b som conflict of opinion in privat advices from Texas as to the state of the crop there, new buying from Wall street and Liverpool sources relieved the market of pressure and prices recovered about half of their early loss.

According to some authorities the Texas crop has been injured by the recent dry, hot weather and fears are expressed that the heavy showers in sections of the eastern belt, following so closely on the record-breaking heat of last week, may cause shedding. This gave encouragement to local bulls and the market acted quite steady throughout midday and up to the last half hour, when selling of October, credited to spot houses, checked the improvement and produced a moderate setback.

As freely predicted on Saturday, the detailed weather reports showed a continuation of extraordinarily high temperatures in the central and eastern belts up to the close of last week, but indicated a drop of 10 to 20 points in the maximums on Sunday. Aside from scattered showers, however, there was no rain and many private advices from the western belt said the crop would suffer unless the dry spell was soon broken. It was admitted, nevertheless, that the dry weather had minimized the boll weevil damage and some took the view that this more than offset up to the present time any drawback that may have occurred in Texas through drought.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, July 21.—Improvement in weather conditions over the belt held the cotton market down today, but while offerings were freer the short side was not aggressive and in the afternoon the market had a very steady tone on moderate buying and threatened to make a full recovery from the decline. This buying appeared to come from covering shorts as much as it did from bullish traders who were taking the long side.

The weather reports noted considerable rain over the belt and a fall in temperature, and the forecast promised more rain in the eastern belt and in the southern sections of Texas and Louisiana. The absence of general rains caused the bulls to contend that no material change had taken place in the crop situation. Many bales of new cotton were reported at various points in Texas and rumor had it that a bale of new cotton had been ginned at Selma, Ala. These reports of new cotton did not cause free selling, because of the claim by the bulls that buyers were eagerly buying ahead all the cotton likely to come into sight this month.

The market opened steady at a decline of 5 to 7 points on poor cables and the weather map. In the early trading the decline was widened to 7 to 8 points on the new crops. This was the low of the day. In the afternoon prices worked up to within a couple of points of Saturday's close and closed at a net loss of 2 to 5 points. The tone on the close was steady.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, July 21.—Reports of occasional showers in the southwest weakened Liverpool and brought some selling to our market, which, however, was listless during the day. The prices show rallying power, some Wall street buying, giving only a temporary show of strength, the usual selling of hedges was lacking. Reports from Texas are conflicting. The recent damage seems slight and the heat elsewhere, while broken at night, rules very high. Extensive rains are becoming imperative, but so far the crop has made good progress with a condition leaving it in an easily responsive state.

Spot sales in Liverpool are good. The crop movement in August is predicted to be slow. In New Bedford mill circles there is a better feeling.

London Stock Market.

London, July 21.—Money rates hardened, but discount rates were easy. The bulk of the $3,500,000 in gold offered in the open market today was taken by the Bank of England. Although the undertone of the stock market was firm, due to the improved Balkan situation, business was very narrow. Home rails eased while Kaffirs remained neglected.

Louisville and Nashville, 138¼.

Southern railway, 22⅝.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, July 21.—Good showers in the southwest over Sunday caused the market to ease off a little today. It looks more and more as if there was going to be a big crop west of the river this year and it also begins to look as if there would be a heavy August movement in spite of a late start over most of the belt. October broke 12 points today, while December went off 10 and January 8. If the public does not come in to support the market it looks like lower prices during the season of early movement.

Liverpool is due to come ½ down to 1½ up on new crops.

Country Produce.

Chicago, Jly 21.—Bitter nchanged. Eggs unchanged receipts, 13,553 cases. Potatoes lower at 75@80; receipts, 125 cars. Poultry, alive, lower fowls, 15 springs, 19 turkeys, 19.

FEAR OF RUST SENT WHEAT UP

Market Closed Firm at Advance of One-Half to One and Five-Eighths Cents. Corn and Oats Higher.

Chicago, July 21.—Renewed fear of black rust damage had a bullish effect today on wheat. Closing prices were firm at a net advance of 1-2 to 1-2@5-8. Corn gained 1@1 1-8 to 1 1-4 and oats 1-2@5-8 to 7-8c. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged prices to an upturn of 22 1-2c.

Wheat traders gave earnest attention to the opinion of a leading expert that, under early possible conditions, late wheat in the Dakotas and Minnesota would show heavy losses. He declared that unless there was cool weather with wind the rust would develop rapidly this week. Other authorities sent word of signs that the fungus, already noticeable in many sections of South Dakota, would spread to the north. Active export demand kept the wheat market from any important setback, notwithstanding an increase in the visible supply total and despite huge primary receipts, 2,423,000 bushels against 1,685,000 a year ago. Drenching rains were said to be injuring crops in Russia, Germany and Holland and world shipments were only moderate. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equaled 343,000 bushels.

Lively speculative buying carried corn upgrade. Receipts were light and advices were at hand showing a great deal of damage had been done by drought and heat in the western part of the belt beyond the Missouri river. December shorts covered freely.

Oats rose chiefly because of the meagerness of offerings. Yields were said to be running low.

Provisions rallied, owing to a strength of corn. Weakness which ruled at first was due to more liberal receipts of hogs.

Yards fairly well supplied with cattle this week, side from two loads of choice Tennessee heifers the run was badly mixed in quality and condition. These two loads were bought at the top figures of the week by the Atlanta packer. The market has ranged reasonably strong on the better kinds which were scarce. Plain cattle were more plentiful and prices varied, owing to quality and condition. A big per cent of the cattle were grassy and only about half fat, they were therefore mean and undersirable as killers. Prices ranged irregular and lower.

Tennessee lambs continue to come freely.

Barely enough hogs coming to supply demand. Market strong and higher.

LEADING STOCKS MAKE ADVANCE

Amalgamated, Union Pacific and Steel All Record Gains, While Wells-Fargo Sells at Par—Bonds Higher.

New York, July 21.—With frequent periods of inactivity the stock market resumed the upward movement inaugurated last week. Practically all market leaders were 1 to 2 points on heavy trading in United States Steel, Union Pacific, Reading and Amalgamated. These stocks, as usual, comprised the buy of the day's operations, but trading, as a whole, was broader than for several weeks. The notable exception to the upward movement was Wells-Fargo, which sold down to par, the lowest in twenty years.

News of the day was of the usual diversified character, including developments in the Balkans, which imparted firmness to London and Paris, while Berlin displayed nervousness over Turkey's reported intention to reoccupy Adrianople. London and the continent were buyers here, probably of 25,000 shares, principally Steel, Union Pacific and Amalgamated. Private advices from Rio de Janeiro pointed to extreme financial tension in Brazil.

Union Pacific's preliminary statement for 1912-13 was the outstanding feature. The estimated surplus above earnings equivalent to 15.06 per cent on the common stock, without including the fourth quarterly dividend on Southern Pacific, which would increase the surplus to 15.94 per cent, compared with 13.87 per cent the previous year. Baltimore and Ohio also submitted a creditable report for the same period.

Railroad tonnage in the middle west was lighter last week, and further curtailment of business was reported.

Money rates west and southwest are quotably higher, in contrast to local conditions, where greater ease was shown.

Bonds were generally higher with an increase of business. United States 2s and 4s and Panama 3s declined ¼ per cent on call. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,530,000.

BUSIEST WEEK YET CONFRONTS HOUSE

Appropriations, Tax Revision, Inheritance Tax on Schedule—New Counties Probably Be Sidetracked.

With the general appropriations bill set as a special order for today, the tax revision measure back from the ways and means committee in shape for passage, and the inheritance tax bill set as a special order for Thursday, as it will be if the rules committee acts favorably on the resolution introduced by Mr. Swift, of Muscogee, yesterday, the house will have its hands full without any further consideration of the new county questions this week.

It was the intention of Chairman Crawford Wheatley to have the appropriations bill disposed of in one day, the house sitting in continuous session until the final vote should be taken. This would be getting the bill through with unusual dispatch, as heretofore two, and sometimes three, days have been consumed in debating it.

May Finish in One Day.

In view of the fact, however, that the houses meet in joint session at noon to canvass the vote of the recent senatorial election, the program to finish in one day may be broken into. As the general appropriations bill contains nothing but the running expenses of the state this year, reduced to the lowest practicable basis, it is hardly likely that serious objection will be raised to many of the items.

As usual, the house will go into committee of the whole to consider the bill, item by item, then have it reported back to the house proper for final action on the entire measure. This will take time, but it is not impossible that the bill will be cleared out of the way in a single day.

The general tax bill, if the program of Chairman Akin is carried out, will be reported to the house Friday. It is not unlikely that the house will act on it early next week, possibly on Monday. It is unusual for the general appropriations bill to be acted upon in advance of the tax bill. The innovation meets with favor from many of the members, however, as it is really the logical order for such measures to come up. With the appropriations bill ahead, the ways and means committee will know approximately how much money they will have to raise before starting about raising it.

Chairman Due Thanks.

Both the chairman of the appropriations committee, Mr. Wheatley, and the chairman of ways and means, Mr. Akin, have earned the gratitude of the state by the business-like dispatch with which they have gotten these measures, always the most important considerations of the first session of the legislature, under way. It is not unlikely that Governor Slaton will have both bills in his hands ten days before the close of the session as he requested.

The chief obstacle that stands in the way of the diligent work of the legislature from now on to the end is still the new county agitation. The question that many members are asking themselves, in view of the practical certainty that no more new county measures can be passed by the house this year, is why should time be consumed in the consideration of them?

In order to please Mr. Wohlwender, of Muscogee, the house voted a reconsideration of the Candler county bill. This was done with the express understanding that the bill was not to be heard from again this year.

If the rules committee will give it a chance the house will have the opportunity of saying tomorrow whether or not it is willing to devote the slender balance of this session to real work, givenig first consideration to matters of general interest involving the public welfare.

Hardeman Resolution.

The resolution which Mr. Hardeman, of Jefferson, did not offer Monday, because the debate on the reconsideration of the Candler county bill did not give him a chance, he will offer today, in conjunction with Mr. Fullbright, of Burke. It will put the house squarely on record as to whether the whole state or the new counties are to come first. It will save the legislators what time there is left and a world of annoyance, and will save the new county boosters a lot of money if the latter are notified that they may take a vacation until next year.

On the other hand, the school teachers and the people have a sufficient stake in the resolution to watch the vote upon it with interest.

Another resolution which Mr. Hardeman will offer today in order to expedite the business of the house will be to make the sessions from this time on begin at 9 o'clock instead of 10. Both resolutions will be referred to the committee on rules.

Boosters Still Active.

Meanwhile the new county boosters, though somewhat disheartened, are still active. The committee on constitutional amendments will give a hearing this afternoon to the Warner county bill.

The Barrow county bill, the only one which has passed the house so far, has been set as a special order in the senate tomorrow.

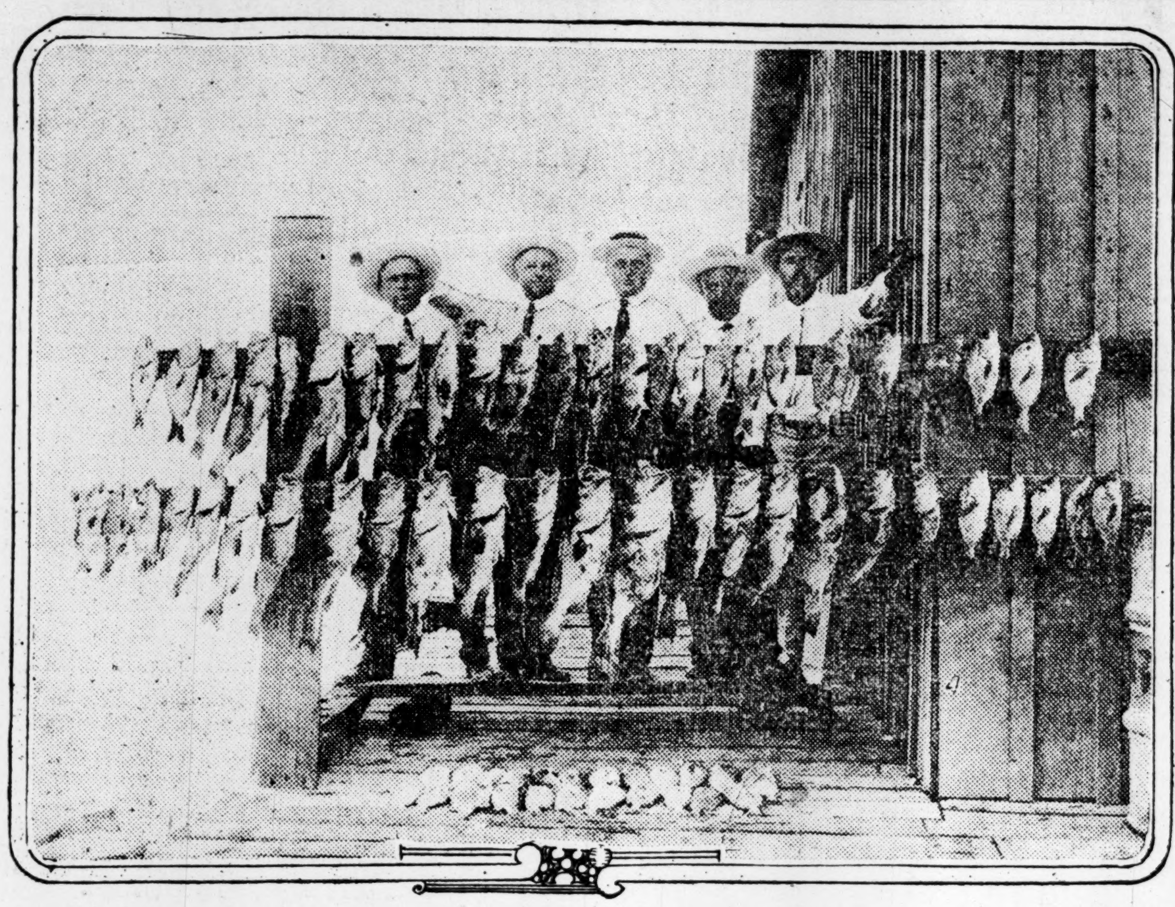
A FISH STORY FROM AUTO ROW



This is a fish story right off of Auto Row, and is told by Captain Dan Walraven, of the Atlanta Auto Sales company.

Captain Walraven, with T. M. Webb, of Atlanta; T. J. Briken, Bradentown, spent the past week at Sarasota, Fla., fishing and having a general good time.

Captain Wulraven, accompanied by the above named gentlemen and Mayor Hughie, of Sarasota, left one day during the week for a little fishing trip, and according to the captain and vouched for by the gentlemen who accompanied him, they caught just seventy-five of Sarasota Bay's finest of the finny tribe in seventy-five minutes.

Believed That the Delegates Will Vote to Meet Here in 1914.

By Fred Houser.

Kansas City, Mo., July 21.—(Special.)—The thirty-third annual convention of the Photographers' Association of America was called to order at 1 o'clock this afternoon with 800 delegates on the floor. The convention is drawing many celebrated photographic artists from all over the country.

It is Atlanta for 1914 says Harry Goodhardt, of the Southern Photographic Material company, after talking with several hundred delegates. The Kansas City Post quotes L. D. Hicks, of The Southern Ruralist, as follows:

"Atlanta deserves the 1914 convention and from the present indications will win out. The magnificent support which is being given the Atlanta boosters by the Kansas City papers will greatly aid our delegation in their fight."

The Atlanta convention bureau has a display in the lobby of the Baltimore hotel and has opened an office in the convention hall, which is the center of all political activity.

HELPLESS, BULGARIA IS CRYING FOR PEACE

King Ferdinand Appeals to the German Emperor to Stop the Rumanians.

London, July 21.—Any idea that the Bulgarian army is preparing for a counter stroke is now quite abandoned It has become known that in his anxiety to bring about peace King Ferdinand appealed to the German emperor regarding Rumanian action. The nature of the emperor's reply has not been disclosed.

A semi-official dispatch from Sofia says even should the Rumanians invade the capital no resistance will be offered.

The actual occupation of Adrianople has not yet been confirmed. The Turkish advance on Adrianople has been accomplished by considerable skirmishing.

The Bucharest correspondent of The Daily Telegraph hears, but is unable to confirm, that Greece has waived claim to Kavala and Draina, and will content herself with the Saloniki Hinterland which would facilitate a peace settlement. He also says a junction has been established between the Rumanian right wing and the Servians.

Bulgaria Accepts Conditions.

Bucharest, Rumania, July 21.—It is officially confirmed here that Bulgaria has accepted conditions laid down by Rumania, and also has agreed to the terms with Servia and Greece.

TWO BILLS ARE URGED BY RETAIL MERCHANTS

Association Wants Garnishment and Fraudulent Check Measures Passed.

Every section of Georgia has sent representatives to the first annual meeting of the Retail Merchants' association, which opened a three-day session at the new Ansley hotel Monday morning.

The main feature of the convention will be to aid the passage of the garnishment and fraudulent check bills now pending in the legislature, which the association drafted.

At the morning session President Wilmer L. Moore, of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, delivered the address of welcome, and paid a high compliment to the men who compose the association. Besides urging the passage of the above bills, Mr. Moore called the merchants' attention to other bills, such as a compulsory school law and better banking laws, which he said should be passed.

After the opening exercises the association got down to business, and after a few minutes went to the capitol to lobby in the interest of their bills.

L. W. Roberts, special representative of the retail merchants' association, in a talk before that body last night, declared certain manufacturers were opposing the garnishment law. "These men," he said, "are partly responsible for the nasty conditions in Georgia today.

"It is up to us to look after our own interests," he declared. "We must have this fraudulent check bill and this garnishment bill passed. It is for our own protection that we ourselves may live."

Previous to Mr. Roberts' speech reports of various committees were heard on their efforts at the capitol in the afternoon, when they interviewed various senators on the bills.

This morning's session will meet at the Ansley at 9 o'clock, and then various members will go to the capitol to lobby.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Les Miserables."

Acted by some of the leading dramatic artists of the French stage, minute and lavish in every detail of stage setting regardless of expense, the picture presents a graphic and vivid portrayal of the great story. One begins to realize an looking at such a picture as this of "Les Miserables," the great possibilities of the motion picture film. Unhampered by anything like the confines of a theater stage, the best actors of France have been enabled to produce the nearest possible approach of the incidents themselves in real life in the picture.

A large and critical audience attended Monday night's performance, and with a few exceptions sat through the entire performance of over two and one-half hours, and enjoyed every minute of it. Nothing in the nature of "movies" has been so much enjoyed, perhaps, since the production of "'Quo Vadis'" at the Grand several weeks since.

Keith Vaudeville

(At the Forsyth.)

Kellerman, Odiva and Ideal have all appeared upon the vaudeville stage in Atlanta and have pleased big audiences by their exhibitions of swimming and diving, but the peer of all acts for sheer daring and dangerous feats is headlining the bill at the Forsyth this week in the number offered by John F. Conroy, the world famous life saver.

Mr. Conroy is assisted by two girls, who are good to look at, both in face and in figure. His scenic equipment is of the best, and the last two dives, in which all three are in the water at the same time, are the most thrilling Atlanta has yet seen.

The bill serves to give Atlanta a new favorite in Deiro, the piano-accordionist, who made the hit of the bill on Monday afternoon, being repeatedly called back for encores.

Lester, who has been seen here before, is as entertaining as ever. No better ventriloquist has ever been seen here. Jack Auger, in "Jack the Giant Killer," is assisted by a company of dwarfs. The act is a big drawing card with the children.

Smith, Cook and Marie Brandon, three clever people who dance and sing, are very good, particularly in their dancing. The BeAnos, a novelty gymnastic act, open the bill. Shriner and Richards, in songs and dances, are fair.

2 CONVICTED BANKERS PARDONED BY WILSON

Washington, July 21.—President Wilson today pardoned T. F. Baker and John Wisherd, convicted at Abilene, Texas, April 13, 1912, of violation of the national manking act and each sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. No portion of the sentences had been served, and the president's action was based on the ground of innocence.

Baker was convicted of misapplication of the funds of the First National bank, of Snyder, Texas, of which he was cashier, and Wisherd, a reputed millionaire, was convicted of aiding and abetting the alleged offense. The circuit court of appeals affirmed the judgment February 4, 1913, and the supreme court of the United States, on April 28 last, denied a motion for a writ of certiorari.

Wisherd, who owned extensive tracts of lands in Texas, Wyoming and Nebraska, negotiated a $60,000 loan with the Snyder bank, although the bank's capital and surplus permitted under the law, a loan of only $8,000.

The loan was paid in full with interest and while excessive loans are forbidden there is no penalty in the law for their negotiation, and the men were not tried on that charge.

The department of justice, after investigating the applications for pardon, held that the men were not guilty of misapplying the funds of the bank because there was no fraud in connection with the loan.

BABY DISFIGURED WITH RED HUMOR

Came in Patches, Almost All Over Her, Like Ringworm, Made Sores and Itched, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

Clarendon, N. C.—"My baby was broken out with a red, thick and rough-looking humor when about two mon s old. It would come in patches and went almost all over her in that way. The places were like ringworm and as they would spread they would turn red and make sores and itch. The trouble went to her face and disfigured her badly. Her clothes irritated it.

"I used several different kinds of salves that were recommended for the trouble and ——— and ———, but they did no good. I saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I got a sample and in one night's time I could see a change in the redness and in two days the place would be nearly gone. I sent and got one twenty-five-cent cake of Cuticura Soap and two fifty-cent boxes of Cuticura Ointment, which cured my baby. She was well in three months." (Signed) Mrs. Bertha Sawyer, Oct. 11, 1912.

Why not have a clear skin, soft white hands, a clean scalp and good hair? It is your birthright. Cuticura Soap with an occasional use of Cuticura Ointment will bring about these coveted conditions in most cases when all else fails. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

☞Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

"ON TO ATLANTA," KNOXVILLE SLOGAN

Knoxville, Tenn., July 21.—"On to Atlanta" this week will be the slogan of the directors of the National Conservation exposition, to be held in this city during the months of September and October. A commitee of exposition directors will go to Atlanta to take up with business men, jobbers and manufacturers of that city the matter of an exhibit of Atlanta-made goods in Knoxville, and also to perfect plans for a big Atlanta day at the exposition. T. A. Wright, president of the National Conservation Exposition company, will head the delegation.

With so many other of the large manufacturing cities of the south to be represented in Knoxville by extensive lines of exhibits the directors of the project feel that Atlanta, too, with good results might also be represented. Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Baltimore, Memphis, Nashville, Birmingham, Winston-Salem, Greenville, S. C., Lynchburg and Knoxville are some of the cities that will be on display at the Conservation exposition, and the exposition management wants to add the name of Atlanta to this long list.

The exposition directors plan to go to Atlanta and there take up the exhibit question with the chamber of commerce of that city, and also with the Merchants and Manufacturers' association.

Within the last few days exhibit space in the different buildings has been going very fast, until now there is very little of any kind left. Before August 1 the exposition management hopes to be able to make the announcement that every foot of space has been sold. It is for this reason, as well as for the other reasons noted above, that the exposition committee is going to Atlanta at the present time. During the last week the management of the national show was obliged to add 30,000 square feet of outdoor exhibit space to the grounds. This, because of the big demand by makers of agricultural implements and other manufactured goods suitable to be shown in the open for space.

TRY THIS AND THEN INVADE THE CHICOE IN HIS VERY LAIR

An ounce of prevention is worth many a pound of cure, where the microscopic but pertinacious chigoe—familiarly known as the "red bug"—is concerned, thinks Edward L. Bishop, secretary and treasurer of the Manufacturers' Warehouse company of Atlanta.

Having seen in a recent issue of The Constitution that the fame of Dr. S. C. Benedict, of Athens, Ga., has spread far and wide throughout the west as a result of a "chigger" bite remedy of the doctor's, Mr. Bishop arises to remark that what is needed in the matter of the ravages of this most aggravating enemy of mankind is a preventative and not a cure.

Evidently from the antagonistic tone of Mr. Bishop's reference to this littl elover of the human cuticle, he has been a sufferer from its attacks, and he may therefore be considered in the nature of an expert upon the subject.

His card is as follows:

Editor Constitution: I read, with considerable interest, in this morning's Constitution, the remedy that Dr. S. C. Benedict, of Athens, Ga., has for "Red Bug" bites. I have no doubt this is an excellent cure, but believing in the adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," I herewith submit the "Ounce."

Sift in each shoe a small amount of powdered sulphur and rub a little around the ankles, you can then enter the woods into the very lair of the fierce and untamble red bug and defy him to do his worst. I have tested this preventative a score of times and always with entire success. Five cents' worth of sulphur will serve fifty persons. Very truly yours,

E. L. BISHOP.

Dragged a Mile to Death.

St. Johnville, N. Y., July 21.—While Lester Kretser, twenty, a farm hand, was riding a horse in a hay field the animal ran away. Kretser's leg caught in the harness and he was dragged a mile through a field and over highway before dying.
